

Mayor to Ask That Local Sovereignty Be Re-Established

As a result of the move started by the Oak Hill District Improvement Association in connection with its fight for revocation of building permits granted by the State Board of Standards for the construction of prefabricated homes in Newton, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood will recommend to the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night that the city government give its support to the two bills filed in the Legislature.

The bill, House 885 and 886, seeks to restore to cities and towns their authority over materials and methods of building construction as well as over the issuance of building permits. The movement has interested people in several areas throughout the State in which houses were being erected under the authority of the State Board of Standards.

Established shortly after the war to aid in the housing emergency, the State Board of Standards has the authority to overrule local city and town officials on matters of construction and types of buildings erected.

Mayor Lockwood will ask the Board of Aldermen to vote its approval of the bill, and urge the members of the Legislature to vote in favor of the proposed measure.

It may save not only your own life but the lives of those who might be riding with you.

A Notable Birthday

Newton, along with other communities throughout the land, next week will pay homage to the American Boy Scout. And rightfully it should, for the work which this organization is, and has been accomplishing merits the highest commendation.

In these days of a great deal of lawlessness and the many demoralizing influences which are thrown in the path of the youth of the nation, the Boy Scout movement is playing no small part in teaching many of the youngsters the right from the wrong and is helping to mold and build fine characters in those who partake of its program.

Here in Newton, the Boy Scout movement is strong. And because it is strong Newton enjoys a far lesser degree of juvenile delinquency than do other communities where the youth are not so ably guided.

Since 1910, more than 16,500,000 American boys and men have had the benefits of the training, fellowship, handicraft skills and high adventure of Scouting. America is all the richer for it. Many men in high places in American affairs today proudly credit Scouting's influence in their lives.

The year-in, year-out civic and emergency service to Newton and the nation by Boy Scouts, needs no recital here. Scouting brings to boys at an important time in their lives a program of worthwhile activities, under high grade volunteer leadership.

The need is for more boys to have the advantages of Scout training. Although more than 2,300,000 boys and leaders are now in Scouting, there are thousands of boys still outside the organization. They can get into the fun if more institutions open their doors to them in their own neighborhoods, and if more men interested in boys, volunteer their time as leaders. It's an investment that pays off richly in personal satisfaction.

Says 'Age of Mr. Chips Gone By But Good Teacher Respected'

M. Roland Heintzelman, teacher of English at Newton High School and Newton Junior College, was one of eight alumni participating in a "Job Clinic" under the sponsorship of the Vocational Guidance Program, Amherst College, recently. Mr. Heintzelman spoke for the profession of education.

Among points stressed by Mr. Heintzelman in his talk at the general session is that "there is today, more than at any time in American education, a need for the well-educated man who has the human touch." Teaching, he said, should not be entered as a second-best choice or because one is undecided. Although the financial returns are meager, the work is steady and stimulating, and it leads to continued personal growth. Mr. Heintzelman concluded, "It seems that the age of Mr. Chips has gone by, yet a good teacher eventually gains a great respect in the community, a stronghold of affection, an ever-increasing number of acquaintances — and always, he will have many friends." Twelve Amherst seniors who visited Mr. Heintzelman to talk further about education were interested in questions such as public versus private school, or elementary versus secondary school teaching. They asked questions about the importance of courses in education, specific steps in applying for a job, getting into administrative work, and specific minimum salaries.

The symposium, first of its kind at Amherst, included a two-hour general session, and individual conferences. At the general session, attended by approximately 125 seniors, Chairman Eugene S. Wilson, Dean of Admissions, asked each alumnus in turn to tell just what he did in his job, how he got his job, the advantages and disadvantages of work in his field, and the qualifications most needed by men entering it. Professors represented in the symposium were education, transportation, manufacturing, banking, sales, advertising, investments, and merchandizing.

Name Stores Division Co-Chairmen for Drive

Mrs. John F. Brown of 360 Central street, Auburndale, and Mrs. Ralph D. Chisholm of 100 Randolph Park, West Newton, have been appointed co-chairmen of the Stores Division for the Newton 1950 Red Cross Drive. Both Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Chisholm have been active in community affairs, especially in service work and civic organizations.

Mrs. Brown served for 10 years as president of the board of directors, Newton Visiting Nursing Association, a Community Fund agency, resigning two years ago as president. She has been interested in garden activities, having been a past president of the Auburndale Garden Club and has been president of the Newton Tribute Foundation. She organized the Newton Garden Tours two years ago by having 10 to 12 gardens opened to the public for the purpose of raising money to further landscape Commonwealth avenue.

Mrs. Chisholm has been an active member of the P.T.A., serving as chairman of the program and adult education committees. Her interests in community services are many, serving as a captain in the 1949 Red Cross Drive in West Newton, a captain in the Salvation Army Drive, and a worker for the Community Fund Drive. Her work as a volunteer in the Red Cross chapter activities and as a volunteer on the maternity floor at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital show her interest in community service work. The chairman of the drive, Douglass B. Francis, is pleased to have these two accept the co-chairmanship of this important division.

The captains for the various sections of the city of the stores division met at the home of Mrs. Chisholm recently to discuss plans and to receive literature and materials for the drive. The captains are: Auburndale, Mrs. F. Russell Briggs; Newton, Mrs. Roger C. Allen; Newton Centre, Mrs. W. S. Anderson; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Helen A. Ward; Lower Falls, Mrs. James R. Thompson; Newtonville, Mrs. Norman E. Moore; Nonantum, Miss Lillian Swartz; Waban, Mrs. Kenneth W. Rogers, and West Newton, Mrs. William S. Hodgkinson.

At this meeting, Mr. Francis, fund chairman, spoke to the members on the importance of supporting the Red Cross Fund Drive in order that the vital work of the Red Cross, including the National Blood program, may be carried on. Also present was Maxwell P. Gaddis, Newton chapter chairman; Mrs. Henry T. Patch, fund secretary, and Miss Marjorie Phelon, executive director, Newton chapter. Miss Phelon described the 16 active programs of the Newton chapter, stressing the fact that every dollar given to the Red Cross is stretched because of the large number of volunteers who give countless hours of service without remuneration.

Gallaghers Outlast St. Mary's (B) 56 to 48 As Barry Waters Stars

By ED PISELLI

Sparked by left-forward Barry Waters, who hit the high mark of 21 points, the Our Lady's basketball squad snapped out of their two-game losing streak last Friday night, downing St. Mary's of Brookline 56-48 at the high school auditorium. Coach Charlie Gallagher's wards faltered only once during the hard-fought contest, when late in the second quarter the Blue and White went into a one-point lead momentarily, the half ending in a 27-27 deadlock. But that was the only threat to the Purple and Gold's win, and they leaped to the fore in the second half, gradually increasing their margin to register their fifth victory in Catholic League Division II competition.

Waters was joined in the scoring department by center Dick Butler, who totaled 16 markers, four via the foul line, while Waters amassed his credits with six floor shots and nine from the gift stripe. Guard Bill McCarthy did his bit, contributing nine towards the evening's victory, the remainder going to Jim McDonnell and spare Bill Bertrand getting four pointers apiece.

Our Lady's jumped to an early first-quarter 18-7 lead over the Frank Silva-coached quintet, breaking fast and feeding to lay-up specialists Waters and Butler. Forward Mike Bowman, always a potentially high scorer, never got a chance to add to his one basket mark of the first frame, and left the game during the second because of an excess of fouls.

Brookline offered more backboard resistance than had ever before been felt by the Gallagher's, Jim Coughlin and Dick Farrell helping to even the situation a little, but on the whole the Purple and Gold had the jump in the vital rebound game.

Early in the second quarter Our Lady's saw their healthy 11-point margin evaporate, the Red and White, led by Coughlin and Farrell, sharpening their sights for an eight-point rally, before the locals could assemble forces for a tight defense. A McCarthy foul shot and a one-hand push-up by Waters helped retain their edge, but toward the end of that frame Brookline, who outpointed Newton 20 to 9, time and again filtered through the Gallagher's defenses to go ahead 26-25.

Left guard Joe O'Donnell poured in a pair of lay-ups, after breaking through twice in the same manner, to put his club into a one-point lead. This was erased seconds later by Waters, who sunk a brace of foul shots, setting the score at 27-26, the locals edging out again. But just before the half, forward Tom Keady flipped in on a foul try, deadlocking the two at a 27-27 figure.

Newton equalled the first quarter in brilliant basketball at the start of the second half, netting a total of 12 points while limiting their foes to just six. Center Butler broke the tie to put his team ahead on two floor flips. Our Lady's retained their margin the rest of the game, registering a 39 point total to 33 for St. Mary's at the end of the third frame.

Waters, never once letting up in his superb ball handling and sharp-eyed toss-ups, caged a commendable nine points in the last quarter to lead the Gallagher's to an impressive 56-48 victory. The Purple and Gold's league record now stands at 5 wins as against 2 defeats.

Newton Bests Watertown In Overtime Game 47-45

By JOE McGAFFIGAN

Newton High School basketball team played its greatest game of the present campaign and as a result upset Watertown High 47-45 in an overtime contest at the Newton High gym last Friday. The victory gives the Smiths a 4-3 record in Suburban League competition and makes them sole possessors of fourth place since Arlington bowed to Brookline High. Although Captain Bud McQueney tallied fourteen points, the Tiger victory was a team victory, to which every member contributed at least one point.

Spearheaded by sharp-shooter Dick Quinlan and the rangy McQueney, the Tigers built up a 17-11 lead at the end of the first period. Dick and Bud threw through the hoop this period nine and six points respectively.

The second period, however, was definitely Watertown's as the Smiths slumped badly. The visitors, paced by Jim Stackpole and Jim Lopez, scored seventeen points to hold a 28-22 lead at half-time. Stackpole and Lopez scored nine and six points respectively this period.

In the third stanza the Tigers cut Watertown's lead by three points as they outscored the visitors 13 to 10.

Early in the final chapter the Smiths tied the count at 41-41 on a Jack Bailey foul toss. This period was nip and tuck all the way and McQueney's charity toss with twenty seconds left sent the game into overtime. In the extra stanza, the Tigers drew first blood as McQueney tossed in a throw from the charity stripe. A minute later little Walley Beavers tossed in a layup after taking a long pass from McQueney. Jim Lopez sank a foul shot to wind up the scoring at Newton 49, Watertown 47. With a few seconds left Watertown's Ed O'Hara missed two foul shots.

News From the State House

By HELEN L. RING

The legislators have been sensitive to the recent blast of the Massachusetts Taxpayers Association regarding absenteeism in the last session. In order to protect those legislators conscientious of the state's work, Democratic Floor Leader Robert Murphy of Malden filed an order in the House of Representatives to protect the record of the members who are absent because of illness.

An attack was made on Republican leaders at a public hearing held in the Gardner Auditorium at the State House on the bill filed by Mason Sears and Charles Rugg before the Committee on Education. The bill calls for an emergency law necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety and convenience, and in order to preserve health, safety and convenience cities and towns may appropriate money for conveying pupils to and from schools. Less than 200 people attended the hearing.

Mason Sears, speaking in favor of his bill, said "the support the legislators of both parties are giving this proposal to safeguard the transportation rights of parochial children under the existing law insures its prompt approval. These rights are being threatened by an initiative petition which would bar children who are legally enrolled in parochial schools from riding on school buses paid for in part by their parents' taxes." Edward B. Hanify, law partner of Mr. Rugg, stated that the adoption of the bill would remove the religious issue from the school bus transportation, such removal the purposes of the referendum petition would be served. Others who spoke for the Sears-Rugg bill were Sen.

Richard H. Lee, Newton; Sen. Harris Richardson, Winchester; Rep. Charles Gibbons, and several Democratic legislators.

Opposing the Sears-Rugg bill, Rev. Isaac Higginbotham, secretary of the Mass. Baptist convention, said "the attitude of the Republican State Committee is cowardly and despicable." They will have to answer for it," Dr. Higginbotham censured people who called the signers of the Batcheller initiative-referendum petition "bigot." "I know they are not bigots. They include pastors and preachers. I wonder if the real bigots are not those who deny we are true churches and ministers of the gospel. I wonder where the bigots are?" He continued on to say "we fought for religious freedom and believe in separation of church and state. We want to take religion out of politics. The issue is that no public money should be used for private purposes." "The Republican leaders," he said, "did not want the petition to reach the ballot because they felt that it would injure the chances of their candidates for office." "I am a Republican and most of the signers of the petition are Republicans," he said with great pride, "and as a Republican I'd rather go down in defeat standing for the great American principle rather than sell out for votes." Dr. Higginbotham also said that he would "fight for the right of Catholics to have parochial schools but with the understanding that they stand the expenses in everything including transportation." He stated that the "Roman Catholic hierarchy was 'trying to get control of public funds'." "If it

Boy Scout Week to Be Observed Here

Boy Scout Week will be observed in Newton and throughout the country beginning next Monday and continuing through Sunday, February 12. It marks the 40th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, and will be celebrated by 2,300,000 boys and adult leaders.

Norumbega Council, which embraces Newton, Wellesley and Weston, and has a membership of about 4,000 boys and adult leaders will inaugurate Boy Scout Week with a Court of Honor. This will be held at the Warren Junior High School in West Newton this Friday evening. This will be followed by special activities planned by the Council's 101 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts. The theme of the 40th birthday observance is "Strengthen Liberty."

Boy Scout Week this year finds the organization at the mid-point of its two-year crusade to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty," which seeks to bring more boys into its ranks, give them richer experiences in all phases of its programs under volunteer leaders of high character who take training courses so they can carry on effectively.

Norumbega Council has contributed notably to this program, and at the present time its membership is at an all-time high.

is a health measure something should be done."

Rev. Emory S. Bucke, editor of Zions Herald, a Methodist magazine, opposed the bill. He said "we are opposed to appropriation of public funds for private parochial schools, no one is compelled to attend parochial schools." Rev. Dana McLean Greeley, minister of the Arlington Street Church, Boston, said that "Mr. Rugg is wrong. He is a good friend of mine. His petition is of no value, and that it would deprive us of the Democratic process of amending our own laws." Rev. Lothrop, minister of the Community Church, Boston, opposing the Sears-Rugg bill, stated that he believes in Referendum. "The Judgment of the people is superior to some of the members in the legislature."

Attorney Thomas Vinson, former representative of Winchester, asked the Committee to reject the bill. He was strong in his denunciation of the Republican Party. The Republicans "don't dare to trust the people to vote." "If they had any political brains they would want this referendum to go on the ballot in November." Mr. Vinson stated that "the issue is whether public money should be used for the benefit of private institutions." He said that Sen. Richardson's own minister says that that Sen. Richardson is wrong. "If the Republican leaders had any brains they would want the parochial school bus issue to go on the ballot," declared Attorney Vinson. "This time in 1950," he said, "the Republicans of this state are so aroused that every old woman, crippled person, anyone who can get to the polls on stretchers will go to vote. It opens the door not only to free transportation but to supplying rubbers to youngsters so they won't get their feet wet, free textbooks, lunches, and for everything else parochial school officials want the public to pay for."

The State Senate passed to be engrossed the bill prohibiting the use of refreshments on the Boston Common and the Public Gardens in the City of Boston. Rule 8 was suspended and the bill is now in the House for action. The Public Gardens has been a sore eye to the public. Bottles, trash, etc., cluttered the grounds. Removal of refreshment stands, said the legislators, will help to keep grounds clean.

A petition to permit recovery of damages for personal injuries to guests occupants of motor vehicles upon proof of ordinary negligence was rejected by the State Senate on a tie vote. Senator Gibney pleaded for passage "because we don't get any protection unless we can prove gross negligence." Those who opposed the bill stated that there may be a possible case of collusion. The collusion would be so great it would add many dollars to premiums.

A public hearing will be held on Thursday, this week, at the State House on grade labelling of milk, at 10:30 a.m., Room 433. Massachusetts permits the sale of eight legal grades of milk.

Miss Ruth L. Dierdorff and Mr. Philip Brooks Vaughan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis B. Vaughan of Newton Highlands, whose engagement has been announced by Miss Dierdorff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Ellis Dierdorff of Brookline, plan a September wedding.

Memorial Service Held at Warren For E. Warren Blue

A simple memorial service was conducted at the Warren Junior High School by the principal, Mr. Paul C. Scarborough, Monday, for Mr. E. Warren Blue, teacher of eighth grade general business and social studies, who passed away suddenly last Friday following a heart attack. Many pupils and members of the faculty also attended the funeral services on Sunday.

Flowers purchased from contributions of his homeroom and classes, as well as flowers from the faculty, were sent to his home. By vote of Mr. Blue's pupils, part of the money collected, together with donations still being received, is to be sent to the Heart Foundation. As in the case of two other teachers who passed away during their service at Warren, Mr. George Hardy and Lt. Simon Surabian, a memorial will be established in Mr. Blue's memory.

A graduate of Newton High School and Brown University, Mr. Blue taught in Waltham, Mass., and Cleveland, Ohio, before joining the Newton school system over twenty-two years ago. He came to the Warren Junior High School as a teacher of mathematics. However, his skill in and love for sports, which began when he played football at Newton High, made him the logical person to take charge of the boys' physical education work during the war years when Mr. Everett Converse was on military leave. Following the war Mr. Blue took over the classes in Junior II general business and social studies.

Guns Stolen From Armory In August Are Recovered

Police Sunday questioned a Dorchester n.a.n. who allegedly led Boston authorities to a garage where nineteen guns, stolen in a break at the West Newton Armory last August, were recovered. Boston police were trying to link the man to the $1,500,000 Brink's holdup.

Capt. Patrick J. King and Inspectors Joseph B. Lyons and James E. Halloran of the Newton

Police department joined Boston police in quizzing the suspect, Roland Boone, 28, on suspicion of illegal possession of firearms. Found in the garage together with about $20,000 worth of stolen merchandise, were seventeen .45 Army Colt automatics and two .30 calibre M1 carbines, which is part of the loot stolen from the West Newton Armory. Several other automatics taken last August are still missing.

Nutrition Center Takes Steps To Be Independent Agency

The Newton Nutrition Center took another step toward becoming an independent agency of the Newton Community Chest, when the full Nutrition Committee adopted a new set of by-laws at a meeting last week. Previously the Center has operated as a branch of the Community Council. The committee in charge of drawing up the by-laws included Miss Adelaide Ball, Mrs. George Hinman, Dr. Ernest M. Morris, and Mrs. Eugenia Copeland.

The Board of Directors met immediately after the meeting was adjourned and elected the following as officers for the coming year: Dr. Thomas Sears, president; Miss Abbie Andrews, vice-president; Mrs. John Hewitt, secretary; and Mr. John J. Guiney, treasurer.

The newly adopted by-laws will go into effect immediately. The next meeting of the committee is scheduled for March 8th.

DON'T LET THE BRINK BANDITS HEAR ABOUT THIS BUT...

● We go into over 9,000 Newton homes every week, with the best pass-key in the world. And we know our job inside out.

● WHO are we? We publish newspapers... the kind that people look forward to reading... the kind they believe in because our papers stand for all the best interests of the communities they serve. THE NEWTON GRAPHIC is the newest addition to our family.

● People in Dedham and Needham and West Roxbury and Roslindale know us well. After all, it was back in 1870 that we (The Transcript Press, Inc.) started in business. Today our newspapers, The Parkway and West Roxbury Transcripts, have a combined circulation of over 17,000 families. In Needham, The Chronicle reaches more than 4100 families and our Dedham Transcript is read by more than 4000. If our efficient and courteous delivery boys have ever missed a single home on their regular routes we've heard about it mighty quickly because those people WANT our newspapers.

● Now we make our bow in the Newtons. We're proud to be the publishers of this

Newton Graphic. It's an old and respected institution in the Garden City... growing up as it has along with other businesses and expanded as the city itself has grown and expanded. If there is a resident of Newton who was around in 1872 he'll remember that that was the year The Graphic first appeared.

● And The Graphic is here to stay. Yes, The Graphic has grown... but it's going to grow more and more. The NEW Newton Graphic will be a bigger and better paper than ever. We're independent... with no ties and no master to serve but the best civic and cultural interests of Newton. You may depend on that and you may believe in our advertisers because they represent the best business interests in this city.

● The Newton Graphic is distributed by one of New England's best distributors to over 9,000 homes in Newton. We expect to increase this number... but meanwhile, our assurance to our readers that in the NEW Newton Graphic you will find the best of reading for all the family.

Know Your City Government

The Veterans' Housing Department By Commissioner Carl C. Mullen

Another in a series of feature articles presented by The Graphic as a public service to better acquaint the citizens of Newton with their government.

Commissioner Mullen has been a resident of Newton for nearly 30 years, and resides in the Oak Hill section of the City. He was born in Amherst, Massachusetts, attended the local schools of that town, and is a graduate of Worcester Academy and Northeastern University. He is an expert at the sport of Fly Casting and is President of Mirimichi Anglers' Association, Doaktown, New Brunswick. He is the first vice-president and secretary of The Columbian National Life Insurance Company of Boston, and for many years has been in charge of the mortgage loan department, and has been responsible for the placing of many millions of dollars of mortgage loans secured by residential properties throughout the United States. Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood appointed Mr. Mullen Commissioner of the Veterans' Housing Department in January, 1948, and his two associates, all of whom serve without compensation are Warren W. Oliver and Frederick A. Hawkins, each one being well known for his interest and accomplishments in civic and governmental affairs.

In telling of the building of Oak Hill Park and the City of Newton's contribution in providing homes for its veterans, I think I should start at the beginning and give you the story step by step.

Shortly after the end of World War II, the difficulties experienced by our veterans in obtaining suitable living accommodations became increasingly evident. The City government being keenly aware of this situation, in the fall of 1947 appointed an informal committee from the Board of Aldermen, headed by Alderman Sidney H. Baylor, to study the matter and bring in recommendations. As a result of its preliminary studies of a questionnaire sent to all veterans in Newton, it became evident that something must be done at once. The questionnaire disclosed the individual requirements of the veterans and the prices they were able to pay and support. An analysis of the indicated annual income of a majority of those seeking homes made it clear that such homes could not be produced if ordinary speculative building practices were followed and further that a housing program would be possible only with the fullest cooperation of the City of Newton. This study and the veterans' housing survey proved conclusive justification for a housing program.

In December 1947, the Board of Aldermen passed a City Ordinance creating a Veterans' Housing Department charged with the responsibility of providing homes for our veterans. The Ordinance provided for a three-man unpaid department with one member appointed for one year, one member for two years and the third member designated as the commissioner for a three-year term. The Board of Aldermen appointed Mr. Warren H. Oliver, a prominent banker in Newton, Mr. Fred A. Hawkins, the head of a well known construction firm in Newton and myself as Commissioners.

Q. Now with the preliminary work out of the way and the Veterans' Housing Department officially set up, what did you do then?

Our first problem was twofold: to decide on the type of construction and to find a building firm with the ability and the know how to undertake a development of the magnitude that was contemplated and which would not likely fail to complete the job.

We then made trips to several cities in New England inspecting various housing developments and interviewing construction firms.

The next step was to decide on a location large enough and suitable for our purpose. After surveying some seventeen possible locations, it was recommended to the Board of Aldermen that the City take by eminent domain 126 acres of land in the Oak Hill section of the City. It was felt that economies could be effected in developing only one area which would not have been possible had we built a smaller number of homes in each of several locations.

In April of 1948, plans and specifications were ready and the area chosen had been laid out by the City Engineering Department under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works Willard Pratt giving the contour grades for the lots, streets, sidewalks, paths, etc.

Q. With the plans and specifications completed and the plot plan laid out, what did the overall plan provide for?

The overall plan provided for 412 single dwellings, a school and recreation area, a parking area and a business area. It was to be a self-contained community with all the necessary school and shopping facilities. Transportation was made available through the Middlesex and Boston busses which now circle the Park at frequent intervals during the day and evening.

The plot plan is most modern and is known as the campus type where many houses face walkways, and service entrances and garages are entered from the rear. Children living in these sections cross no streets in entering the school area thus greatly increasing the safety factor.

The magnitude of the undertaking is apparent when you realize that there are more than 5 1/2 miles of streets in Oak Hill Park, that no lot is less than 7,000 square feet and many are 10,000 square feet or better and the largest is 17,521 square feet. In addition to the 12 shrubs planted around each house, the City has planted more than 1100 trees and approximately 500 evergreens in landscaping the area.

Q. What about the variation in the size of the lots? Did they pay more for the larger ones than the smaller ones and how were the lots allocated to the individual owners?

In the first place, all lots were priced exactly the same at $50 which was included in the price paid for the house. The allocation was handled in a way which we considered fair to all. We had the architect lay out the entire development and spot the type of house which he thought should go on each lot. There were six types of houses and it was arranged that the same types would not be built on adjacent lots. The purchaser first selected the type of house he desired and then spotted on the master plan the lots on which this type of house was to be built and then selected the lot available.

The method of financing the undertaking by the City of Newton is unique and we understand has not been attempted by any other municipality in the United States. In the first place, the City had nothing to do with the actual financing of the individual houses. Three different types of contracts were entered into by the Veterans' Housing Department—one with the John Macdonald Construction Co. of Newton for the construction of a trunk sewer which had to be built for a distance of a mile and one quarter before it reached the project.

Q. Did you say a mile and one quarter?

Yes, that is correct.

Q. It must have cost a lot of money?

Yes, it did cost approximately $160,000 and although the entire cost was charged against Oak Hill Park, it should be noted that it opens up some 300 acres of the Shaw Estate for development as the Shaw land drains into the Newton water reservation and cesspools and septic tanks cannot be used.

The second contract was with Peter Salvucci & Sons, Waltham, Mass. and called a utilities contract for the grading of the entire project, building streets, sidewalks, curbs, sewers, surface drains, water mains and all other work of this nature except the finished grading and the seeding of the lawns and installing flagstone walks. Incidentally, grading the project involved pushing around more than one half million cubic yards of dirt and gravel. The Kelly Corporation of Arlington, Massachusetts, the largest builder of small homes in New England, was chosen to undertake the construction of the houses. This company operates on a large scale and is able to effect economies in construction which small builders cannot achieve. It also had wholesale outlets which made possible mass purchasing and stockpiling of scarce building materials and had its own timberlands, sawmills and woodworking shops, thus saving dealer profits on many important items of construction and equipment. The contract with this corporation provided that this work be in accordance with plans and specifications and the houses sold at agreed prices to veterans as certified by the Veterans' Housing Department.

Q. You have just mentioned agreed prices for these houses. What were these prices?

The basic houses which had asbestos shingle exteriors sold for $7,280. Wherever cedar clapboards were used as exterior wall covering in place of asbestos shingles, the purchase price of the basic house was increased by $247; where cedar shingles were used, the increase amounted to $319; the addition of a breeze-way or porch increased the cost by $325 and a garage by $925.

The mortgage financing of the individual houses was arranged by the veterans themselves under the F.H.A. insured mortgage plan or under the G.I. Bill of Rights plan. Our Newton banks handled the majority of these loans and contributed much to the success of the development, absorbing all the so-called closing charges at considerable expense to the banks and a saving to the veterans.

The City floated a bond issue to cover the cost of the acquisition tion of the land, building the trunk sewer, laying out and building all streets, etc. and all other work called for under the utility contract. We now come to the most unusual part of the entire undertaking. The total cost to the City was approximately $1,600,000 all of which it is expected will be recovered by the City within 16 years through the real estate taxes paid by the individual home owners. You will note it appears the City will have provided all these homes for its veterans at no ultimate cost excepting that of furnishing school facilities and police and fire protection and garbage and trash collection.

Now, let us talk about the houses. They are three bedroom homes with a full bath and shower, living room, combination kitchen and dinette and utility room. They are fully insulated with rock wool both in the side walls and in the ceilings, are equipped with either gas or electric ranges, domestic hot water by an insulated storage tank gas fired and all home are heated by radiant heat with circulating hot water with boiler fired by an automatic oil burner.

The construction of these houses is of interest as they are the so called utility type with no cellars. First, a trench was dug around the entire house area 36 x 24 feet. Then a cement perimeter wall 12 inches wide and 4 feet deep was poured. Next the area inside the perimeter wall was filled and tamped with gravel and then a 4 inch reinforced concrete slab was poured over the entire area. Embedded in the cement are the 1/2 inch copper radiant heating coils laid 12 inches on centers. The heat for each room is controlled by individual valves at the base of the boiler in the utility room. The floors were then finished by asphalt tile laid in plastic on the cement slab.

Q. Isn't radiant heat expensive to operate?

No, on the contrary, it is very economical to operate and we have heard of no case where the season's heating bill has exceeded $100 and many report only $60 to $70.

From there on the construction is the conventional type of framing and in all respects conforms to the strict rules of the Newton building code. The overall size of the house as just mentioned is 36x24 and the interior finish and floor layout is identical in all 312 houses. Constant effort was made from the very start to give more house for the money without sacrificing quality. Many devices were employed to give an appearance of variation such as the use of different kinds of exterior siding, location of the house on the lot, varied colors and different roof treatments. Additions of breezeways and garages carried this variation even further. All walls and ceilings are the dry wall type and all walls were painted a neutral color to harmonize with rugs and draperies.

The bathroom walls are papered with walltex, a washable paper, in texture somewhat similar to the oil cloth your grandmother probably had on her kitchen table. In order to get away from uniformity of design and location on the individual lots, similar types of houses were not built next to each other and no two houses are lined up exactly the same on the lot.

Owing to the desperate housing needs of many of our veterans, we made strenuous efforts to get them housed before cold weather set in the winter of 1948 and by Christmas of that year had more than 150 families living in their new homes and by December 31, 1948 approximately 200 families were in. Actual construction of the houses started early in July 1948 and twelve months later 98% of the houses had been completed and a month later all 412 were ready for occupancy so in 13 months, the actual construction was completed. This would not have been possible without the splendid wholehearted cooperation of the City government from the Mayor down and the outstanding support of the several City Departments involved in the various activities. To Inspector Ed Kivell of the Veterans' Housing Department we all owe a great debt of gratitude for his efficient and persistent work covering all phases of the land development and the construction of the houses.

We should also like to pay tribute to the efforts of the three utility companies and their staffs in coordinating their activities so that we could have continuous uninterrupted work and no work stoppages. The Boston Edison Co., the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the New England Telephone Company and their working staffs were directly responsible for the steady progress and flow of work.

Q. You have said that no one persons was responsible for building of Oak Hill Park. If this is so, who were responsible for Oak Hill Park?

Oak Hill Park is not the result of the work of one individual or one group but was made possible only through the concerted efforts of a great many people who were interested in providing homes for our veterans at the earliest possible moment and we of the Veterans' Housing Department are most grateful for their splendid help and support.

During the early stages of the development, we interviewed and screened many hundreds of applicants. We are convinced these fine young people are a credit to the City of Newton and as time goes on will become the outstanding citizens of our community.

In order to maintain a high standard in Oak Hill Park and to provide for social activities, there has been formed by the home owners an association called Oak Hill Park Improvement Association. It is a well organized association and has already been instrumental in accomplishing much.

There is a great deal of sentiment in connection with the Park. All streets and paths are named after Newton men who gave their lives in combat in World War II. The fathers and mothers of these young men often visit the Park and have come to know the families who live on the streets named after their sons.

Last Memorial Day, for example, a mother gave each family living on the street bearing her son's name a white rose bush in memory of her son. Another mother gave a large American flag to the people of her son's street. A flag pole has now been erected on this street and on Christmas day, I noticed the flag flying and a beautiful wreath around the standard bearing her son's name. More of this I am sure will be forthcoming when the Park is officially dedicated next May.

It was not an easy task to build Oak Hill Park but we all feel that our efforts were worthwhile and feel a great satisfaction in being privileged to have had a part in the work of providing these grand deserving young people with the opportunity of becoming home owners in the great nation of home owners in the world.

Attending Eastman Sales Conference

Urges Pedestrians To Use Caution

"This is the time of the year for pedestrian accidents. Eight out of ten pedestrian fatalities occur during the hours of darkness," stated Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department.

"Perhaps these shocking figures will move pedestrians of Newton to take proper precautions after dark," the Chief continued. "The pedestrian frequently has a false feeling of security in assuming that a driver can see him when he can see the vehicle's headlights. Actually, the pedestrian sees the car lights long before the driver sees him. By the time the driver sees the pedestrian it may be too late to stop."

"This increases the pedestrian's responsibility for protecting himself at night. He must be certain to look in all directions before crossing the street and be sure that any approaching automobile is at a safe distance and traveling at a reasonable speed. If the vehicle is less than a block distant, wait until the vehicle passes."

In a warning to drivers, Chief Purcell urged "Watch very carefully for pedestrians and give them all consideration. Take time—save a life."

The Rev. G. Vaughn Shedd, former pastor of the local Methodist Church, was installed as general secretary of the Lord's Day League of New England at the annual meeting in the crypt of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Boston.

ROBERT A. CLAIR, 205 Homer street, Newton Centre has been named an assistant vice-president of Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. A graduate of Holy Cross College, Mr. Clair attended Boston University College of Business Administration and Suffolk Law School. He joined Liberty Mutual in 1926 as supervisor of Highway Safety and held the position of Chief Loss Prevention Engineer in the company's New England division until his appointment as Director of Safety Education.

Governor Paul A. Dever or one of his official family will represent the Commonwealth, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood of the City of Newton, and Mayor G. Chaucey Cousins of the City of Waltham. Chairman of the Board of Selectmen Roy C. Papalia, Watertown, J. Watson Flett of Belmont, and J. Austin Peckham of Wellesley have been invited to represent their communities. ## Social Security Payments In Newton Last Year Totaled $613,300

James T. Phelan, manager of the Cambridge office of the Social Security Administration, announced that approximately $4,050,000 in benefits were paid, in 1949, under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance program in the area, including Newton, serviced by that office.

These payments went to people in the following categories: 6733 retired workers received approximately $2,352,600; 2302 wives, age 65 years or older, of retired workers, $395,300; 2377 children of retired or deceased wage earners, $443,800; 1681 aged widows, 65 years of age or older, $48,200; and 950 widows, under 65 years of age who had children of the deceased wage earner, under 18 years of age in their care, who received $263,500. Where no one was entitled to a monthly benefit, lump sum death payments were made to 821 persons, or estates, amounting to about $136,900.

According to Mr. Phelan, in Newton the total payments under this program in 1949 amounted to $613,300. The payments made in Newton in the month of December, 1949, were as follows:

	No.	Am't.
Retired workers,
aged 65 or over	934	$28,105
Wives of retired
workers, 65 years
of age or older	332	5,145
Children, under 18
years of age, of retired or deceased
wage earners	336	5,315
Aged widows, 65
years of age or older	311	7,320
Widows, under 65
years of age, with children under 18
years of age in
their care	148	3,605

Where no person was entitled to monthly benefits, lump sum death payments were made to 113 persons, or estate, amounting to $18,100.

These payments are made possible under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act to persons, or their survivors, who were engaged in employment subject to the Social Security tax which, until December 31, 1949, was 1 per cent levied on the employer, and 1 per cent deducted from the pay of the employee. Beginning January 1, 1950, that tax has been increased to 1 1/2 per cent for the employer and 1 1/2 per cent for the employee.

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church will hold a Family Dinner Wednesday evening, Feb. 1, at 6:30. The various groups will each entertain with a short "stunt."

Final check Tuesday in a break reported here Saturday night disclosed that more than $3000 worth of loot was taken from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Lincoln at 32 Nehoiden road, Waban.

Mr. Lincoln, sales manager for a large chemical company, first reported that a cursory examination of the house showed little taken, although the house was ransacked.

However, Mr. Lincoln and his wife made a more thorough check Tuesday, and discovered that furs, and other men's and women's clothing, and a large quantity of jewelry were stolen. On the revised list, police said that the loot was worth more than $3,000.

The break occurred while the Lincolns were away from home on a visit. Entrance was gained through an unlocked kitchen window in the rear of the home.

Approval Given For Quinobequin Road Project

Approval by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the Legislature has been given a bill filed by Senator Richard H. Lee for the resurfacing of Quinobequin road, by the Metropolitan District Commission. It is now being considered by the Ways and Means Committee.

Senator Lee filed the bill at the request of the Waban Improvement Association after the MDC refused to resurface the road unless it could also widen it.

The Metropolitan District Commission regulations state that all streets less than 26 feet in width must be widened if they are resurfaced. Residents of the section oppose the widening of the street.

Senator Lee stated that the MDC has agreed to go ahead with the resurfacing, and that if the project is approved by the Ways and Means Committee, the work will be undertaken.

Wants Speedier Action On Bill Which Would Allow Store at Oak Hill Park

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones, Jr., is seeking an opinion of the Supreme Court on a bill filed in the Legislature by Senator Richard H. Lee on the matter of allowing cities and towns to take land by eminent domain for the erection of stores in veterans' housing developments.

The Legislature has scheduled March 7 for the date on which the bill will come before the Committee on Mercantile Affairs. Senator Lee, however, is endeavoring to have an earlier date set for the hearing due to the fact that the Supreme Court will not render a decision on a matter unless it is "pending legislation."

As the Supreme Court takes from two weeks to two months to render a decision, there is danger that the Legislature may adjourn before a decision is given if the matter is not acted on sooner than March 7. The request for a decision from the Supreme Court must be made by the Legislature after the matter comes before the committee.

Senator Lee's bill seeks to allow cities and towns to take land for commercial use "when it is adjacent to a veterans' housing development." The bill was prompted by the fact that the erection of stores in Oak Hill Park has been held up because the law states that the land can be taken for public housing, but not for commercial use.

Waban Resident Works to Safeguard Health of D.P.'s

(Special to The Graphic)

Prescott Allen Stevens, former resident of 9 Stetson way, Waban, is putting American techniques of sanitary engineering to work to safeguard the health of several thousand displaced persons under the care of the International Refugee Organization in Italy.

The Eternal Promise

There are times when we must have ice underfoot and the white coat of winter around us to see spring. Somehow, a January without snow is a break in the great rhythm and we have to wait a return to normal before we can see the year whole again. The April of apple blossom and daffodil is no isolated phenomenon; it is rooted in February and March, and it reaches toward June and July.

The year's rhythm is as clear as the rhythm of the days, but it touches our consciousness most firmly at the approach of spring and when summer is turning to autumn. It is as though our own pulse felt the imminence of change and responded to it. What we see is only a lesser part of the process: the greater part lies in what we feel with the nerve-ends of understanding. It is as though we sensed the slow movement of sap in the roots of the trees, or the imperceptible urge of corn and bulb to lift green fingers toward the sun. Spring comes that way, beneath the surface of the soul, as it gets under way beneath the surface of the soil.

Days lengthen. The night is neither so long nor so cold. The sun swings in a bigger arc across the sky, and leans less to the south. These are the obvious signs, and we do not mistake them. The greenish tinge of a clear sky at sunset is not so icy as it can be at winter's depth. The Big Dipper hangs to the east of the Pole Star of an evening, not down on the horizon where it lay at the time of winter solstice.

The signs are there to be seen. But the great sign, the one that stirs the pulse, lies closer to the heart. It is the promise, the eternal promise of spring that livens the understanding.

News From the State House

By HELEN L. RING

The General Court of Massachusetts convenes at 2 p. m. Monday through Thursday and adjourns between 3 to 3:30 p. m. During this period and because of the great bulk of bills, many are rushed through without debate.

It was rather a quiet day at the State House on Tuesday. The leading Democrats were out to greet the Vice-President of the U. S., Alben W. Barkley and Mrs. Barkley at the airport. They were guests of honor at the Democratic Massachusetts Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner held at the Copley Plaza.

A public hearing was held before the Committee on Judiciary for salary increases for district court judges. Petitions for higher pay for judges in seven courts out of seventy-two courts in the State was heard by the legislative committee. A hearing was held on the bill filed by Edmund F. Kneeland of Newton to increase the salaries of the district court judge and the clerk of the court in Newton. The bill calls for an increase in salary of the presiding justice from $6,000 to $8,000 a year and the clerk from $4,500 to $6,000 a year. Judge Donald E. Mayberry, presiding justice and Mr. Gallagher, clerk of the Newton District Court and Sen. R. H. Lee of Newton, spoke in favor of the bill. Several members of the committee proposed that a special recess survey commission should be established to study proposed salary increases for all district court justices in the state.

The bill to increase entry fees in district courts and in the Supreme Judicial Court to help defray any extra expenses of the courts was on for debate in the State Senate. The bill was ordered to a third reading.

The petition filed by Lisenard B. Phister of Newbury to shorten the name from Trustees of Dummer Academy to "Governor Dummer Academy" was heard before the Committee on Education. The school is located in Essex. Mr. Phister said that the name of the one hundred and sixty-eight year old Massachusetts preparatory school was too long for the twenty members of the school band to spell out. No doubt he had no opposition.

COMMUNITY BARBERS

421 CENTRE ST., NEWTON
"It Pays to Look Well"

Before the Committee on Education a hearing was held on bills to raise the minimum salary for teachers with college degrees from $2100 to $2400 a year. At present the minimum salaries in this state is $1800 and $2100 according to the size of the community. The City of Newton starting salary is $2400 a year. Mass. Parent-Teachers Association with a membership of 80,000; Mass. Federation of Teachers; Boston Teachers Club; American Federation of Labor and many others spoke in favor of increase. Each and every one was asked the question by a committee member "what sources would you recommend to raise money for the increase." Several replied they are in favor of a graduated income tax or to increase the income tax. There was much opposition. Rep. George Porter of Agawam said "he was for a salary increase providing we increase our income tax. Times are unsettled and several towns are in need of state aid." Richard C. Aldrich, representing the Massachusetts Real Estate Association opposed the increase because any bill of this type must be borne by the real estate taxes. He was asked the question what suggestion can you make to raise taxes. He answered "sales tax" which drew much laughter in the hearing room.

Supt. of Schools, Harold Gores of Newton favored the bill to increase the fee from $1.00 to $5.00 for registering for evening school instruction. Assistant Supt. of Schools of Boston strongly opposed the bill. He said "education is free to all."

Dr. John F. Conlon, director of the Massachusetts Medical Society again this year drew the ire of a group of women supporters of anti-vivisection present in the hearing room before the committee on Legal Affairs. For the past few years bills have come up on anti-vivisection in the State House. Each year these bills have been defeated. There were seven bills heard before the committee.

Representatives of the Japanese Diet were received by the Massachusetts State Senate. Senate President, Harris Richardson hailed them as representatives of the "New Japan." Chairman Takeshi Yamazaki of the visiting delegation was seated on the platform with Sen. Richardson. Takizo Matsumoto, graduate of the Harvard College acted as interpreter.

It was announced that the Sears-Rugg bill providing transportation for private and parochial school children in school buses will come up in the House of Representatives for debate on Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Cynthia Brown Fournier, 801 Chestnut street, Waban, student at the New England Conservatory of Music, will play in a Student Recital in Recital Hall at the Conservatory, Thursday afternoon, Feb. 16. She will play Mozart's Sonata in D major.

War Prisoners May Enter Claims

The War Claims Commission, created by the President of the United States, have submitted forms that are now available for the war prisoners who wish to claim reimbursement for the failures of the enemy governments to furnish the proper quality and quantity of food that is required by the standards of the Geneva Convention.

Newton war prisoners of World War II may obtain information forms on the reimbursement of war prisoners, civilian internees, and survivors of such persons who are now deceased, by calling the Home Service Director, at the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross.

Any person wishing to file a statement regarding loss or seizure of personal or real property damage, maritime loss, reimbursement for funds expended, or persons who wish to submit statements for personal injury to health or unpaid labor should complete questionnaires.

Questionnaires should be received by the Commission not later than March 2. It should be understood that submission of this statement does not constitute a formal claim of benefits and the fact that an individual has already fled does not mean that he should not submit a statement for additional loss or injury.

Our Lady's Nip Matignon High in Thriller, 34-33

By ED PISELLI

In a thrill-packed game that was played down to the last second in horse racing fashion, Our Lady's of Newton edged out in front of Matignon High of Cambridge with a one point margin on a last-second basket by Joe McDonnell to win 34-33 at the Our Lady's Gym Friday night.

The Cantabs sported a one-point lead with only seconds remaining, coming from behind a four point deficit, 32-28, to move ahead on a neat hook shot by rangy center, Tom Cullinane, a layup authored by Bob Taft, and a foul shot laced by Charlie Shea. It was then that the Charlie Gallagher-coached club came up with their surprise package, taken out of their bag of tricks, to nip Matignon at the re.

McDonnell and Mike Bowman didn't wait for any pre-arranged plans on the part of the Cantabs to freeze the ball and waltz in on a 33-32 score, but moved in on unsuspecting Cullinane and stole the ball. McDonnell then popping in a one-hander from outside the keyhole. Joe's digit was his only one of the evening, but that singleton was enough for the capacity crowd that joyously ganged him after the buzzer sounded.

The Gallaghers thus settled a score with the John Sheehan-coached squad. They lost the first game a few weeks ago, 48-33, and now sport a 7-3 record in the Catholic League Division 2 standing.

It was a gruelling fray for both clubs from start to finish, with first one and then the other edging out to the fore. The opening quarter saw little scoring, and the issue was deadlocked 6-6 going into the second frame. Barry Waters contributed to the Gallagher's cause with a field goal and a foul shot, while center Dick Butler hit on a set from beyond the keyhole and Mike Bowman sunk a foul try.

The longest lead of the close game was held by the locals midway in the second quarter when they jumped to a sizable 14-8 count, on a one-hander by Butler, who also led in scoring with 10 points, a set shot turned in by Waters closely followed by a Butler jump set and a brace of foul counts.

The Cantabs, never out of the game, closed the gap on a duo of hookers by a master of the deceptive shot, Tom Cullinane, and a trio of gift stripe offerings by his mates. At the half the Sheehans were closing fast on the locals, just two digits off the pace, 17-15.

Early in the second half Our Lady's was weakened considerably by the exit of sharp-eyed Waters, because of an excess of fouls. At that time the low scoring affair was again locked, 18-all.

Second-stringer Bill Bertrand entered the game, and immediately made his presence known by braking the tie with a foul shot. This lead was lengthened by Herm Sampson later who netted a pair of foul tries, giving the locals a 21-18 margin.

However, the situation took on a more tense outlook when Matignon's forward trio struck back with vigor, closed the gap and went into the lead by one point on a stolen ball trick by forward Boyle, popping the marker in on a layup. With the locals now down 23-24, Bowman tapped in a rebound just before the quarter ended, edging O.L. in front 25-24.

A drive-in layup authored by Butler, a jump shot by Bowman, and Bill McCarthy's jump set shot, seemed to give the Gallagher's all the assurance they needed for a relaxed close, but Matignon had other plans and brought the bitterly-contested encounter right down to the finish in almost a dead heat.

With O.L. nursing along a 32-28 lead, the never-say-die Cantabs put on their show of back-to-the-wall aggressiveness, and registered for their one point lead. Then in the closing few seconds, Joe McDonnell retaliated with a bit of his own Frank Merriwell finish.

Newton High Sextet Lose First Playoff Tilt, 5-4

By ED PISELLI

Matching goal for goal in the first and middle periods, the Newton High sextet was finally outlasted in the finale by an improved Cambridge Latin six, 5-4, in the first round of second division competition in G.B.I. Hockey League's playoff session at the Boston Arena Saturday afternoon.

Outstanding stick-wielding by center Dan Keefe, who was responsible for two Newton markers, Doug Manchester, and Bob Keyho kept the cause afire throughout the hard-fought encounter, but an insufficient defense for valiant goalie, Frank Feeley, resulted in their first playoff defeat.

The Orange broke into the scoring column first, Keefe converting a Keyho pass from the right boards, sliding the disc in at just 1m.18s. of the opening stanza. The locals did well to tally four pointers past top-notch tender Richard Heaven, who has the lowest scored-against record in the league.

Cambridge made their entrance into the Newton citadel less than a minute later. Ralph Kilfoyle, stationed in front of Feeley's cage, battled in a pass from George Boudreau who cleared the puck from the right corner. Time on the Latin tally was 2:03.

The rest of the period saw little action from either club, except for some brilliant saves turned in by Feeley.

Keyho led off the second chapter with a fast marker coming at 1m.4s. aided by Bill Rogers. The first-string wingman took a pass from his left and fired in a lamplighter from 10 paces.

This set off a see-saw battle that was to continue to the end of the session. The Cantabs retaliated after Keyho's tally, to dead-lock the issue for the second time. John Murphy swept in on the Newton cage and blazed in a shot that just glanced off Feeley's skate and skimmed in, the equalizer coming at 2m.38s. Newton upped the ante late in that frame on a well paced drive. Keefe and Manchester training to put the Garden Cityans out in front. Keefe carried the disc down on his right wing, and let fly with a scorcher from about the 20-foot mark. The rubber bounced off Heaven's pads, but Manchester the opportunist was set up advantageously and golfed in the rebound at 7m.53s.

Cambridge came through just seconds before the period ended, and wrote finish to any further Newton threats. Boudreau beat Feeley on a well-placed drill shot at 9m.44s., getting an assist from Ray Kelly and John Murphy.

The scoring formula changed hands in the third session, the Latins taking a page from the locals' books and tallying in the first two minutes. Ralph Kilfoyle lit out on a solo after picking up the disc at mid-ice, blasting at the Newton cage from the 20-foot mark sweeping in on his right wing. Time was 1:09.

John Murphy emulated his mate by going the distance unattended, this time driving in on the left wing and sliding in the Latin's fifth pointer at 6m.31s.

The Halls fell behind in the scoring sequence in this frame, but did manage to register one last marker in the few remaining seconds. Keefe, one of Coach Jack Hall's central pace-setters, accounted for the fourth Orange tally, converting pass from Bob Thompson, netting the rubber with 10-foot slide, at 9:53.

Newton Wins in Relay, Second in State Meet

Amassing a creditable total of 17 points, and taking first place in the relay with a time of 2:28.9, the Newton High track team finished a strong second at the Boston Garden in the 33rd Mass. Interscholastic Indoor Track Meet last Saturday. The Orange was just three points behind the top team of the day, Boston English, which was the day's favorite, registering 20 points for the Class A championship.

Some of the Newton boys who gave a good account of themselves were Bob Evans, placing second in the 600, Bob Morrison, who finished third in the same race, and Monroe Carder, who took second in the 300. Bob Shannon finished a respectable third in the dash, and Dick Lovell also took a third in the shot put, tossing the ball 44 ft. 1 3/5 in.

Newton could have possibly gone into a tie with the English, if the latter team went unplaced in the deciding relay contest. Going into the baton exchange, the locals had posted 12 points to 17 for Boston English. But the champs finished second behind Newton, thus insuring the necessary credits for the day's victory.

Following the State Meet, the track committee announced the names of those boys who will compete in the coming New England interscholastics. Newton selections, on the basis of Saturday's performances, were Bob Shannon in the dash, Munroe Carder as an alternate in the 300, Bob Evans for the 600, and Dick Lovell featured in the shot put as an alternate. The relay team walked away with full honors in the selection for the two-lap relay. Cambridge High and Latin the alternate.

Newton Nips Rindge Tech With a 43 to 40 Victory

By JOE McGAFFIGAN

Newton High's hoopsters, by virtue of their 43-40 victory over Rindge Tech last Tuesday, broke a three year losing streak in the Cambridge Gym. Coach Reggie Smith's Tigers had to come from behind to nip the spirited Tech team. The victory gives the Smiths (a league record) five wins in eight starts and a third place tie in the Suburban League with Watertown High behind Waltham and Brookline.

With Dead-Eye Dick Quinlan swishing in long sets and Scotty Price sinking some fancy hooks, the Tigers rallied in the final two stanzas to overcome Rindge's halftime lead of 34-25. In the second half Rindge was held to one field goal and four free tosses by the suddenly awakened Tigers.

Rindge jumped into a quick 13-6 lead at the end of the first period and lengthened this lead 34-25 at the half. Tech held this lead until Dicky Quinlan swished a long set to make it 37-37 with seconds remaining in the third stanza. In the final stanza the Smiths made it 40-36 as Quinlan set and Ralph Barisano tossed in a charity throw. Captain Bud McQueeney and Wally Bevers, heroes of the Watertown game, finished Newton's scoring with a layup and charity toss respectively.

This Friday night at 7:30 in the Newton High gym, the Smiths play hosts to the league leading Crimson Warriors of Waltham High. This is the last meeting between these two colorful teams.

Our Lady's Take First Playoff Game at Arena

By ED PISELLI

Meeting St. Mary's of Lynn for the second consecutive week, this time in the Catholic Hockey League playoffs, Our Lady's sextet did it again over the Saints at the Boston Arena last Sunday afternoon, taking a 2-1 decision for their third victory of the season. Last week's score was 3-1 over the Lynn skaters, who remain winless in eight starts.

Jim Sullivan's lads worked a bit harder for this win, and settled for a draw in the first period, neither team able to register, although George Pettee, rangy left defenseman for the Sullivan's, got a couple of near misses in the opening.

The Purple and Gold connected first with a tally early in the second frame when Pettee drove in on the left wing, letting go with a savage fling at about 10 paces, beating goalie John Langford at 1m.6s.

Our Lady's protected their one-point edge throughout the remainder of the middle chapter, but got careless in the finale, allowing the North Shore club to move into a tie.

Dick Langford converted a pass from Jack Pierce and pushed a soft slider through goalie Bill Lawn's legs at 1:24. It was an easy try for Lawn, who has been known to stop the wildest kinds of sorties.

It was only a matter of time before the Sullivan's would capitalize on the slip in the St. Mary's defenses, and it came at 6m.21s. Bill Cronin elected to carry from mid-ice, sweeping down on the left wing and firing from the 10-foot mark, catching Langford's left corner. In his travel down the ice at high speed, Cronin crashed into the boards after completing his shot, but was uninjured.

Any further serious threats from the Saints were easily turned away by the Sullivan's during the rest of the period.

ATTENDING THE DINNER in the Hotel Somerset, Boston, last Saturday night, which officially launched the 1950 Heart Campaign in Massachusetts were Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Moore, General chairman for the City of Newton.

Money Raised in Drive
For Research Work Here

At a recent meeting of the committee for the 1950 Heart Campaign for Newton, Mr. Norman E. Moore, who is general chairman, brought out the fact to his committee that the money that will be raised in this campaign — which has a goal of $12,000 — is for a very worthy cause. This campaign readily affects every person in Newton because anyone might be subject to a heart condition either in his earlier years or more than likely as he grows older.

The money that will be raised will be used for research work so that local doctors and people in general will have a better insight on the symptoms of a heart condition. An early diagnosis with appropriate adjustments to the physical and mental strains of the job can salvage the most valuable years of a man's life. In discussing this with his committee Mr. Moore brought out the fact that industry also has quite a stake in the advancement of research work of the Heart Association. This is true due to the fact that industry wastes millions of dollars of the best kind of man power annually by its inflexible attitude towards the man rendered a series of incalculable loss. If the Massachusetts Heart Association can help industry to solve this problem, it will have rendered a series of incalculable value. With the steady aging of our population the number of those with the disease of the heart and blood vessels is increasing. We must put a stop to this human wastage.

In reviewing the figures of the $7,000 that was raised in Newton last year Mr. Moore brought out that already as a result of the funds which we received in our first large campaign last year the Massachusetts Heart Association has been able to embark on a series of programs concerned both with the cardiac research and with the various aspects of improving the care and diagnosis of the cardiac patients in Massachusetts. The problems of heart disease are very extensive and complicated and will demand the best thought of physicians and lay people. It is only through the loyal support of the 1950 Heart Campaign that we will be able to carry on our work. In closing the meeting Mr. Moore emphasized that there would be no high pressure or house-to-house soliciting. It will all be done through a letter appeal and it will be up to the people of Newton to give generously as they have done in the past. There will also be heart displayed for the purpose of contributions in the various stores throughout Newton.

Military Whist
Mr. Earl Dunshuttle will conduct a Military Whist at the Frank F. Carr School, Newtonville, Friday evening at 8 p. m. The affair is sponsored by the Carr Parent-Teacher Association to raise funds for classroom gifts. Tickets are now on sale and may be secured from Room Mothers or members of the Ways and Means Committee which consists of Mrs. George McIntosh, chairman; Mrs. Harold Montgomery, Mrs. Thomas Concannon, Mrs. George McManus, and Mrs. Stanley Baker. Refreshments will be served and numerous prizes awarded. The public is invited to participate in the fun.

Building Law Bills 885 and 886 Receiving Strong Aid

Not only did the Newton Board of Aldermen unanimously endorse the House Bills 885 and 886, seeking to restore to cities and towns their exclusive right to permit or reject certain materials and types of construction, at their meeting Monday evening but, word has been received that the Massachusetts Building Commissioners and Inspectors Association, through their Legislative Committee, heartily endorsed the "intent of the Bills" making it apparent that the Oak Hill District Improvement Association has started a movement that is causing widespread repercussions.

courses, legal and emigration advice, assisted them on their way to a self-supporting life.

More than 70 different nations have welcomed refugees since IRO began. Largest numbers of emigrants have been received by the United States, Australia, Israel and Canada and during 1950, attempts are being made to find homes for the more than half a million displaced persons who are still IRO's responsibilities. Biggest problem are the aged, the handicapped and the over-size families. But a bright spot on this "hard core" horizon came recently when Norway agreed to give homes to 50 blind refugees and their families. By the end of 1950, IRO hopes to have virtually completed its task.

Mr. Stevens joined IRO's Italian mission in June, 1949. He received his bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, after which he won his master's degree in sanitary engineering from Harvard's Graduate School of Engineering. At Worcester, he was secretary and vice-president of the Institute's chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineering of which he is still a member. Mr. Stevens, who also resided in Charleston, S. C., for four years, is a member of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban.

organizations and chapters in 34 countries throughout the world. Mr. Smith stressed the point that the "Jaycees" are not a social club but a group of young men between the ages of 21-35 interested in the development and improvement of the community and the development and improvement of the individual member for business advancement and civic leadership.

Mr. Ducharme told the group how the Junior Chamber could benefit the member.

Mr. O'Neill talked about the mutual interest that the Junior Chamber have in the progress of the nation through activities in stimulating interest in government, assisting in reducing taxes, training of civic and governmental leaders through the production of sound community projects.

Mr. Pratt informed the group about the different projects that the Boston chapter have worked on. Some of these projects were the Fire Prevention parade, the Youth Speaks for Democracy contests, Mental Health program and several others.

Tentative plans have now been drawn up for the forming of a chapter in Newton. At a future meeting in February these plans shall be presented to the group and plans for a membership drive shall be made.

Dr. Norbert A. Wilhelm, Director of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, reported on his recent seven weeks tour of Great Britain. He told of how hospitals came to be controlled by government and of how their patients and they are faring under this system. He pointed out that our Congressional Committees have been in England studying the plan and that we, therefore, must expect recommendations for similar legislation here. If we are to preserve our present system we must know and prepare for what will be recommended.

"Skit Contest" Amuses Pack 16

Following this novel bit of entertainment the ceremonies for the various awards were conducted. Several members of the pack participated in the presentation of the Webelos Rank, the highest rank in Cub Scouting, to Richard Williams, a newcomer to the City of Newton. Bob Toher and John Power, in the absence of Cub Scout Master James Riggs, then made the following awards:

Wolf Gold Arrow — Billy Dougherty, John Snook, Tom Kelley, Bobby Keene, Frank Sharpe, Martin Grady.

Supports Better Treatment for Women Offenders

Supporting their long-time interest in the improved treatment of women offenders, the Board of the League of Women Voters of Newton has announced its support of the principles embodied in the legislation filed by the Friends of Framingham Reformatory providing for a board at the Reformatory to handle day work permits, to amend the old Indenture Law passed in 1897 and establish a law to meet the needs of today, and to reduce the sentencing of women sent to the Reformatory for petty larceny or cohabitation from a five-year to a two-year sentence.

League members have studied conditions and laws affecting the sentencing and treatment of women in penal institutions for many years. They have reached the conclusion that the principles embodied in this legislation meet some of the urgent needs for legislative change at this time.

Many League members attended the hearing before the Judiciary Committee January 11 pertaining to the sentencing of women offenders. Other members will attend the hearing before the Committee on Public Welfare on March 7 when the day work bill and the bill revamping the indenture law will be discussed.

Newton citizens who wish to express their opinion concerning these bills are urged to write to Rep. Howard Whitmore, 54 Carver street, Newton Highlands; Rep. Margaret Spear, 121 Bishopsgate road, Newton Centre; and Rep. George Rawson, 22 Marlboro street, Newton, prior to the hearings.

Valentine Party At St. Mary's Parish Hall

St. Mary's Parish Hall is gaily decorated with Valentines for the big Valentine card party which the Junior Auxiliary is giving there this evening at 8:15. The Silent Auction Table is full of useful and decorative objects to be bid upon and the home made candy which will be on sale is being made right now. A delicious dessert, Valentine cookies and coffee will be served, and there will be two prizes for each table. Guests are asked to bring their own cards for bridge or Canasta or whatever card game they wish to play. It sounds like a big evening!

Mr. J. H. Keeley of Newton Lower Falls is the chairman of the affair, and her committee includes Mrs. E. Peter Garwood, Silent Auction; Mrs. Hugu Marulli and Mrs. William Howard; Mrs. John Bowen and Mrs. William Philbrook; decorations; and Mrs. Everett Burdick, 34 Grayson Lane, Newton Lower Falls, tickets.

Newton Legion Post Plans for Big Evening

The two Lees, Chief Cook Arthur and Senator Richard H., are combining their talents to assure the members of Newton Post 48 of the American Legion a terrific evening at the regular meeting next Thursday at the Newton War Memorial Building. Dinner will be served at 6:30 with Arthur Lee's genuine Virginia roast ham as the chief attraction.

Program Chairman for February, Senator Lee, has secured as entertainment the services of Curtiss Wadhams Merriman who will be making his first appearance in Newton. Merriman is one of the most entertaining and captivating speakers that has ever appeared anywhere. The type of man who keeps his listeners on the edge of their chairs or rolling in the aisles, he was connected with S.A.C.O. (Sino-American Cooperation Organization) a secret group which was started by Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek and President Roosevelt. Merriman operated in Japanese occupied territory for two years training Chinese guerrilla troops and leading them under the direction of the O.S.S. with General "Wild Bill" Donovan. The feature speaker also operated in various other parts of China from the Gobi Desert to as far south as South China with three hundred men under Admiral M. E. Miles as his commander-in-chief, spotting for the Flying Tigers on the side. Interesting as it sounds to read about this lad, his graphic portrayal of his experiences is the best thing that ever came down the pike.

At the monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Post held last night, Commander Bill Halliday asked that every member who plans on being present get a reservation in immediately by calling either the Commander, John Foley, or Arthur Lee.

The women of the Methodist Church are sewing today with Mrs. Wilbur J. A. Witty in charge of the work.

Midshipman Charles N. Waterhouse, USNA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Waterhouse of 44 Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, will visit the Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

-A Proclamation- 1950

Heart disease and allied ailments comprise America's most serious health problem, killing more persons annually than the next five causes of death combined, and disabling more persons than any other human ill.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts is the principal target of America's Number One Killer. An industrial community such as Massachusetts can ill afford the loss of manpower and mature leadership caused by the untimely deaths and crippling invalidism so often resulting from this disease.

The Massachusetts Heart Association and its parent body, the American Heart Association, annually sponsor National Heart Week to bring to public attention the gravity of this health problem, and to emphasize the necessity for the utmost co-operation of all phases of our economy to cope with the disease.

Now, therefore, I, Paul A. Dever, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby proclaim

HEART WEEK

February 12-18, 1950

and request civic associations, business houses, scientific, social, fraternal and religious bodies of the Commonwealth, together with the schools, to observe Heart Week through appropriate ceremonies and the fullest contribution possible of personal energy with which to assist its present program of research, education and community service and with which to launch further projects.

By His Excellency, the Governor, PAUL A. DEVER

Birthday Party For March of Dimes Thronged

A crowd estimated at almost 2000 persons attended the WCRB Birthday Party at Totem Pole last Wednesday evening, for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

With Bill Sherman of WCRB acting as master of ceremonies, General Manager Duell Richardson greeted the guests and renewed the station's pledge of service to communities in its home territory for WCRB's third year of operation. Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood of Newton and Mayor G. Chauncey Cousins of Waltham brought the greetings of their cities, and commended the station for its activity in behalf of the public.

Bill Cunningham, noted commentator and March of Dimes State Chairman, spoke briefly of the National Foundation's work, and made a presentation of roses to Mrs. Alvah Ring of the Newton March of Dimes Committee and to Mrs. Sheldon S. Mayo of the Waltham Committee for the outstanding work done by them for several years.

A highlight of the entertainment was the appearance in person of Hum and Strum, noted radio and stage stars, who sang several numbers.

Another feature was the 'Rain of Dimes', a production in which an enormous flag was spread on the dance floor by nine evening-gowned senior high school girls. The assemblage was then encouraged to fill the banner with their loose change for the March of Dimes fund.

Serving as a reception committee were Mrs. Alvah Ring, Mrs. George Porter, Mr. Francis J. Murphy and Mr. Ralph Nelson.

Says Obscured Windshields Are Accident Causes

"Driving without proper lights, windshield wiper, and defroster is as annoying as reading fine print with dirty glasses, and can be infinitely more deadly," Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department said.

"In many fatal traffic accidents throughout the country last year," the Chief stated, "it was found that obscured windshields and windows were a contributing cause. The ironic fact is that all of these accidents could have been avoided."

"When foul weather strikes, the best policy, naturally, is to avoid going out in it any more than necessary. The next best policy is to take every precaution possible to make your car accident-proof."

"The all-important factor of good visibility is dismissed far too often with a casual wave of the hand as pertaining principally to the driver's convenience. It is, at the least, a matter of driver-convenience. Actually, it may be a matter of life and death."

Use of tire chains, good, well-aimed headlights, a windshield wiper that actually wipes clean instead of merely smearing a narrow peep-hole, and an efficient defroster were listed by Chief Purcell as the best self-helps that a motorist can adopt in coping with blinding snow, rain, sleet, and steam.

"Always remember," he said, "that a safe driver in an unsafe car cancel each other out."

Says China Number One Spot of Interest for Students of Communism

"China is the number one spot of interest for students of World Communism for both political and religious reasons," stated Dr. Roderick Scott, Congregational Christian educator and philosopher from Fokien Christian University, Foochow, China, who spoke Wednesday morning in the Andover-Newton Theological School.

A thorough-going student of Chinese philosophy, sociology and history, with a background of over 30 years as Professor of Philosophy and Western Culture at Fokien University, Dr. Scott maintained that "regimentation, so characteristic of the true Communist, is 'alien to the Chinese nature.' In China the Communists are meeting a liberal Christianity which may result in modification of Chinese Communism, he believes.

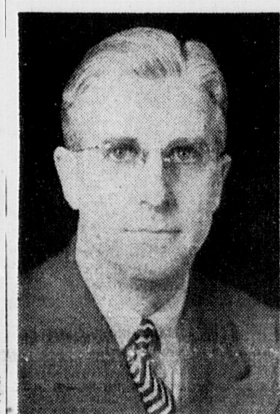

"The best thing the American churches can do right now is pray regularly for the Chinese people, both the non-Communists and the Communists," stated Dr. Scott.

When given a D.D. by the Pacific School of Religion, Dr. Scott was characterized as "a thinker and worker at the point of impact between an ancient culture and a new civilization, a missionary who seeks to bind two great people together."

Jeffrey, president and treasurer of the newly formed Studebaker agency, is a native of Boston and since graduating from Harvard has spent the last twenty-three years, except for Army service in 1943, in the automotive field, nineteen of them with General Motors and the last four years with the Packard Motor Car Company in Chicago, Buffalo and Boston. ## Fireman Hurt At $30,000 Newton Centre Fire

A fireman was injured Sunday during a two-alarm, $30,000 blaze in a one-story brick store block at 1239-1243 Centre street, Newton Centre.

John T. Simpson, 40, of 91 High street, Upper Falls, fell eight feet through a collapsed floor to the basement. Others rescued him and he was held at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital for smoke inhalation and possible broken ribs. His condition was reported as good by hospital authorities.

The fire was discovered by Patrolman John W. Foley as he walked his beat at 5:48 a.m. Smoke was pouring from the rear of the Newton Centre Market. At the scene Fire Chief John E. Corcoran immediately sounded a second alarm, bringing covering aid from Waltham and Watertown. The fire was extremely smoky.

The smoke caused damage to a Dorothy Muriel store at 1239 Centre street and a Liggett Drug Store at number 1243, but the flames were confined to the market.

The company was denied the permit by Commissioner Arthur Campbell last November, and appealed to the Newton Board of Appeals, which upheld the building commissioner's decision.

Newton officials refused to issue the permit because specifications did not meet the Newton building code. The State Emergency Housing Commission, however, has the authority to overrule local officials.

The company will erect four buildings, two with 10 apartments each, and two with four apartments each. The two largest buildings are expected to cost $60,000 each, and the smaller ones, $24,000.

Nations Must Live In Agreement Mrs. Roosevelt Tells Fessenden Group

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was a guest of The Fessenden School, West Newton, prior to her address at Harvard, February 8th.

After luncheon with the Headmaster, a friend of her son, Franklin, Jr., Mrs. Roosevelt spoke to the entire school. Similar to her Harvard address, but scaled to the young audience, Mrs. Roosevelt told the boys that the H-Bomb was a grave responsibility for any nation to undertake, and that such a terrible weapon necessitated a change in our way of thinking.

Saying that the boys could do much about the H-Bomb, or the government's policy, she stated that they could, and must, prepare for a world in which all nations must live in harmony. Speaking to an attentive audience, Mrs. Roosevelt declared that scientists could not stop inventing new weapons, and that consequently the world must keep in stride, and adjust its ways of thinking accordingly.

At the conclusion of her talk, Mrs. Roosevelt shook hands with all the boys and toured the grounds of the school before she left for Cambridge, where she addressed the United Nations Council of Harvard, at Sanders Hall.

Says Education Is A Privilege In Present Day Greece

Education is a privilege and is not taken for granted in Greece, said Dean and President-Elect Carl C. Compton to the boys of The Fessenden School in his address last Thursday.

Describing the life of the Greek students of Anatolia College, Thessaloniki, Greece, Dean Compton said that his college was renewing its efforts now that the Communists had been defeated and the country was at peace. He emphasized the importance that the wealthiest and strongest nation in the world was a Christian one, and he told of the confidence that the Greek people had in the United States.

Although the majority of Anatolia's student body is Greek, Dean Compton said that the common language is English, and that the college's curriculum (Continued on Page 7)

Building Renovations Deemed Essential to Develop Newton Corner

Consensus of opinion at the meeting of the Newton Corner Discussion Group which met Tuesday night at the Underwood School for the purpose of considering the problems of Newton Corner was that renovation of older buildings should be undertaken in order to attract new business and encourage those now located there.

The principal speakers at the meeting were Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, Rupert C. Thompson, secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; Lorenzo F. Muther Jr., executive secretary of the Newton Taxpayers' Association and Robert J. Burns of John T. Burns & Sons. Among the public officials present were Senator Richard H. Lee, Aldermen Paul S. Rich, Carleton H. Merrill and Winfield C. Anderson, and School Committee member Francis P. Frazier.

Mayor Lockwood reported that the new 1950 Budget for the city was the most difficult and toughest budget to work on that the city has ever had to face. Yet, because citizens are proud of the low tax rate and the fair and equitable assessments, citizens in all parts of the city must work together to make the city's budget serve the purpose.

Mr. Lockwood said that the worst mistake ever made by the city was in letting Newton Corner run down and not having done anything about it prior to (Continued on Page 5)

Railroad Ties Cause Spectacular Lower Falls Fire

Hundreds of used railroad ties, owned by the Boston & Albany railroad were destroyed in a spectacular fire Wednesday night of last week which resulted in at least twenty-five calls to Newton fire headquarters from residents of the Riverside section of the city.

The ties had been heaped up beside a spur track to Newton Lower Falls near Grove street. Assistant Fire Chief Francis J. Linnehan said railroad employees had been burning refuse near the pile during the afternoon and apparently had not entirely extinguished the fire.

As a result of the fire, traffic had to be rerouted as firemen battled the rapidly burning ties for nearly two hours.

World Day of Prayer To Be Observed Here

"World Day of Prayer is interdenominational, interracial and international in scope," said Mrs. Dalrymple, adding that offerings are divided between missionary work at home and abroad to bring the peoples of our country and the world into greater communion with each other through supplying their (Continued on Page 5)

Exhibit By Dorothy Udin Chase

A new collection of portraits and character studies by Dorothy Udin Chase of Newtonville, will be on exhibit at the Newtonville Library until March 4. The group is entitled "The People that I meet" and the medium is pastel and charcoal.

The artist's interest is in people of character, in faces expressive of the will to live. She paints with vigor and sympathy a wide range of subjects from a one year old, blonde Cathy to an eighty year old grandfather. Her people are real and intense, full of light and color and completely devoid of any modern abstraction. Still Life in the Atom-bomb Age, an expression of concern for what might happen to all her other people.

Among the portraits are some Newtonville residents: Pete Petrillo, a store-keeper in Newton for over fifty years; Miss O'Neill, the second grade teacher at the Horace Mann school and a former teacher of the artist, Sally, a pupil in the second grade, and Joanne, the artist's seven year old daughter.

Mrs. Chase is modern in that she paints and has a family, three daughters and a student husband. She is studying at the Massachusetts School of Art under the direction of Mr. Otis Philbrick.

Did You Place This Ad For A Qualified Executor?

HELP WANTED - Male

EXECUTOR - To settle my estate when I die. Must know how to gather the assets, pay the debts, prepare estate and income tax returns, etc. Experience essential - No beginners need apply. Box 1622.

Probably nobody ever put an ad like that in the paper.

But maybe it wouldn't be such a bad idea after all!

EXPERIENCE ESSENTIAL

At least you'd be trying to find somebody with the most important qualifications of all—experience.

Unfortunately most people, when they make their wills, don't realize that experience is an executor's most valuable qualification. They give the technical and complicated job of settling their estates to "beginners."

And yet these same people wouldn't think of hiring a stenographer, a cook, or a housepainter without asking all about this little matter of experience.

Let us tell you how our experience as executor may save money for your estate. Our services cost no more than those of an individual. Come in with your attorney at any time.

Nothing Is Free

Many fine-spun arguments have appeared on both sides of the government medicine issue. But, to leave theory aside for the moment, it is interesting to see how it looks to an individual who has been subjected to it.

A woman in England, writing recently said: "People do have to wait for beds in hospitals and it is all very difficult. Nurses are short and of course doctors are terribly, terribly overworked. People run to the doctor for colds and the finger ache. When someone is really almost dying the doctor cannot give as much attention as he should since he is so rushed. The working classes cannot see that indirectly they pay as long as they live, through the nose. For this health scheme they will pay always; nothing is free ever."

This squares with many other reports on the workings of the plan. The standards of medical attention have gone down; initiative has been destroyed, and the old and immensely important doctor-patient relationship has been undermined. And the cost, whether Britons know it or not, is huge, and is borne by everyone who pays a tax of any kind.

The scheme which is proposed for this country is the same in most essentials. It, too, would require compulsory tax payments; it also would promote "mass medicine," which is always second-rate, assembly line medicine. It will be a tragic day if it is ever adopted.

News From the State House

By HELEN L. RING

The Chaplain in his opening prayer to the members of the State Senate said "You Senators are what you are and there isn't one among you who wishes to pass for more. You should never be willing to be rated for anything less than what you are. Unfortunately 'politician' has taken on a cheap and sinister meaning. The term reeks of bossism and demagoguery while it smacks of ignobility. You are, whether you relish the appellation or not—Statesmen. In public let your salutation and introduction be 'Senator.' To be a Senator in this Commonwealth is a guerdon of legislative competency."

Do you know that you cannot collect damages if you sustain injuries or have an accident in charitable hospitals? That is quite true. A bill filed by Attorney Paul F. Spain of Boston, and Rep. John W. Vaughan of Belmont calls for charitable corporations to be subjected to the rules of liability in actions of tort for negligence. There is not one charitable hospital in the State of Massachusetts that is covered by accident insurance. Rep. Vaughan cited one case of a patient occupying a private room in a large charitable hospital. She was given wrong medicine by floor nurse. She died soon after. The father, next-of-kin could not recover damages. Other cases cited were people falling over objects, platforms, etc. The bill was strongly opposed by the Mass. Hospital Association who said that funds are low and cannot get enough money to run hospitals. Others opposing were Y. W. C. A.; Y. M. C. A.; Harvard College; Wellesley College; M. I. T. and Boston College.

Speaking of accidents which is tragic and uncalled for is the loss of an eye or both eyes by bean blowers and air rifles in the hands of small children. Two years ago Rep. Vaites of Melrose filed a bill in the General Court to enact a law to prohibit the manufacture of bean blowers and air rifles. It was killed in the House. This year the bill has been filed again. Dr. Virgil G. Caster of Newton and Rep. Vaites as sponsors. The petition on Military Affairs and Public Safety. Dr. Caster pleaded that the committee must bring in a favorable report as it has brought untold misery to little children. He told the committee of tragic cases coming into his hospital, little children not knowing that it is all about playing with those deadly weapons losing their eye sight at an early age when it can be avoided. Every parent of small children should bombard their representatives and State Senator to vote for H-1768. There should be a stringent law against "toys" that cause bodily harm to children.

A sharp change of words opened the hearing on the initiative petition for the repeal of the school bus transportation law. It was an all day hearing held in the Gardner Auditorium, ending at 5 p. m. Former Rep. Thomas H. Vinson, of Winchester, counsel for proponents of the initiative referendum, in answer to a question from Democratic House Chairman, Rep. Ralph Sullivan "what would happen if Sears-Rugg bill was passed and the referendum wouldn't go on the ballot?" hotly replied—that "the wise thing to do on the part of the Legislature would be to defeat the Sears-Rugg bill and allow the question to go to the people unhampered and allow the issue of spending funds for private school education to be clearly before the voters." The Sears-Rugg bill was drafted by Republican leaders in the expectation that it would nullify the initiative petition. It was stated by one of the members that even if the Sears-Rugg bill were passed and school transportation guaranteed to private and parochial school children, the initiative referendum could go on the ballot as a test of public sentiment.

Rep. Sullivan continued clashing with Mr. Vinson by saying "do you want to mix religion with politics." Mr. Vinson answered "I do not think we are mixing religion with politics. It would be a violation of the right of tax payers." He demanded that the Legislature reject the petition in order that 5,000 more signatures can be obtained and the matter placed on the ballot next fall.

Rev. Isaac Higginbotham of Quincy, one of the first 10 sponsors of the initiative referendum stated: "Does the General Court intend to sell us down the river and deny our right to be free from taxation that is not used for public purposes only, and to wipe out our right for freedom of speech. All issues such as this where the issue is clearly that of the separation of church and state. I am opposed to mixing religion and politics but believe that the law should be repealed because any aid to parochial schools direct and indirect weakens the support of the public school system. A member of the committee asked the question of Rev. Higginbotham why he did not ask to repeal the law before this instead of waiting 12 years. He answered "that it was expensive."

Rev. Dana McLean Greeley, president of the Massachusetts Council of Churches and other prominent clergymen spoke in favor of the referendum. Rev. Greeley declared that parochial school transportation is a small issue. The larger issue was the attempt of the Catholic church to get as much financial support as possible. "I do not believe public funds or tax money should pay that transportation. I ask for consideration on basis of principle. I am opposed to a subsidy from public funds for sectarian purposes. I believe in the separation of church and state. The Catholic church holds a different position." At this point the hearing got out of hand when Rep. Sullivan told Rev. Greeley "why don't you allow the church to speak for themselves." Rev. Emory Bucke of Newton and Rev. Samuel A. Jackson of Roxbury spoke in favor of the bill. Chairman Senator Mahar of Orange asked that debates do not take place as the time is short. Rev. Heath sitting in the rear of the room shouted he wanted to be heard. He asked to be allowed to speak before they recessed for luncheon. He said he would like to say a few words without a debate. The Chairman refused to recognize him and he said he had the right to speak, but did not want to be questioned by the committee. There was free for all verbal clashes and immediately Rep. Sullivan moved that the committee go into executive session. The date to hear opponents will be March 1st.

Opposition was strongly registered against the proposal to unify Greater Boston cities and towns into a single political unit in a hearing before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. There was also a strong protest to a proposed recess study for unification.

Marvin Rosenkrantz, Newton Corner Photo Shop, 293 Washington Street, Newton, will be in Rochester, New York, from February 13 through February 22 to attend the Salesmen's Training Conference conducted by the Eastman Kodak Company at the Kodak Sales Training Center.

Warren Junior High School

On Wednesday, February 8, four members of the Junior Red Cross Council of the Warren Junior High School joined several other councils in a visit to the Massachusetts Regional Blood Center at 314 Dartmouth street, Boston. They were transported in a Red Cross Motor Corps car. This visit gave the pupils an opportunity to witness the work involved in this life-giving project of the American Red Cross.

Pupils from Warren were Evelyn Formalarie, Hinda Adam, Susan Adal and Barbara Witte.

Newcomers to Warren are Harold Ambrose, in Junior I, and his sister Mary, in Junior III. They have just moved to Newton from Arlington, Virginia. Home room 207 is the proud possessor of the punctuality banner for the month of January. This means that each member of the room was in his seat by 8:25, five minutes before the official opening of school, every day during the month. Such a contest is waged each month, its goal being the elimination of all tardiness, that is, arrival at school after 8:30.

Something to "Bark" About Last Friday's assembly was an unusually interesting one for dog lovers. After opening exercises conducted by the School Community President, Robert Moss, assisted by the Jr. III President, Donald Saunders, the student body saw the movie "Partners," through the courtesy of the Purina Chow Food Co. The first part showed the different kinds of hunting dogs, how they are trained, cared for and fed. The second was a dog show, where the entrants included all breeds. An instructive as well as entertaining lecture, it proved without doubt that "a dog is man's best friend" and deserves the best of care.

Girls' Sports The Junior III homeroom basketball tournament ended last week with Room 215 in first place, captained by Helen Skendarian. Tied for second place were Rooms 13, 112, 115 and 207. Outstanding among the girls who played as forwards were Patty Judah, Barbara Heath, Helen Skendarian, Joanne Cattell, Mary Ruth Brennan, Fannie Reynolds, Barbara Spector, Mary Blanchard, Anne Blanchard, Joan Wright, Beverly O'Brien and Shirley Hutchinson. Equally outstanding as guards were Shirley Swaine, Shirley Read, Audrey Kenna, Charlene Phippen, Susan Farrell, Edith Johnson, Janet LaTona, Priscilla Ganley, Pearl Sherriff, Ruth Averbach. The highest scorers by home rooms were: Patty Judah, room 13; Beverly O'Brien 204; Mary Ruth Brennan, 112; Helen Skendarian, 215; Ann Blanchard, 215; Mary Blanchard, 215.

Three final Junior II home room basketball games found rooms 102 and 203 tied for first place, 12 and 134 tied for second place, and 302 undisputed in third place. High scorers for the season were Ann Seyfarth, Raynette Hayward, Grace Lepore, Carolyn Fowler and Jane O'Rourke. Among the top-notch guards were Mary Holmes, Ann McCree, Dotty Linton and Patty Chang.

The Junior I home room basketball tournament has not been completed. Each Thursday afternoon a large representation of the Junior I girls competes by home rooms for the championship. Each girl, too, plays her best in hopes that she will be picked to play on one of the color teams. Scores for last Thursday's games were: Rooms 117 and 301 against 205A, 27 to 10; 205B and C against 11, 16 to 9; 101 against 113, 9 to 6.

Varsity Basketball Last Friday Warren Varsity played Day Junior High varsity in one of the best played games of the year, with a final score of Warren 35, Day 30. In the first and second periods Warren trailed, but the third period started off with a bang with Warren taking a 16 to 15 lead, thanks to Bob Moss' quick basket. Day regained the lead, however, but Mark Walker led Warren's comeback in the fourth period with two baskets and three foul shots. Bob Moss also scored two baskets.

Warren's Junior Varsity was defeated for the second week in succession by a score of Day 22, Warren 16.

The next games will be played at Warren with Warren varsity teams competing against the Bigelow varsity teams.

Wallet Reported Taken From Parked Truck While parked near the West Newton News Company on Washington street, last Friday, the theft of a wallet was taken from the truck of Frank E. Doherty of 57 Cherry street, West Newton, according to a report made to the police.

The wallet contained personal papers. An attempt was made to force the glove compartment, it was reported.

Mrs. Ernest H. Tynes (Gladys C. Tynes) 835 Watertown street, West Newton, received her Associate in Arts Certificate, February 8 from Calvin Coolidge College, (Portia Law School). Mrs. Tynes is a clerk in the Department of Corporation, State House, Boston.

High School Workshop Group Hard At Work for Trip to Frederick, Md.

By CAROLYN WHITMORE

The Newton High School Workshop group, which goes to Frederick, Maryland, in April, is working hard to support its activities. The latest evidence of this was a deluge of bright orange and black bookcovers which descended on the school Tuesday, February 7. Within two days the supply of three thousand, selling at ten cents apiece, was sold out. More are being ordered.

Another project is the selling of identification labels, which are useful on letters, books, or other personal items. These sell at two hundred for fifty cents. At all the home basketball games and track meets, five or six members of the group have been kept busy supplying the audience with candy.

The first set of letters from Frederick were distributed last week. It was found that the situations of the Maryland students range from homes in the town to large and small farms many miles outside the city. Interests of the group in Frederick include the "High Flier," high school newspaper; the League, high school government; the Red Cross, which has served in bringing the two schools into touch; church groups, and many other activities. Newton's exchangers have now introduced themselves to their Frederick companions through their first letters sent from here.

The first box received from the Maryland city contained information on the school and city. Samples of report cards, permit slips, sports schedules, the school handbook and newspaper, and copies of pamphlets showing pictures of the historic points of the city and the picturesque places of the surrounding country were included.

Newton had sent two boxes containing the same type of information. The first on the high school contained school publications and data concerning the activities and different sections of the school. The second consisted of information about Newton and Greater Boston, and included maps, pamphlets, and important statistics. A third box to be sent soon will shed light on the character of the entire New England area. Colorful pictures of each state are included, as well as data on nearby colleges and other well-known institutions of higher learning.

Principal Raymond A. Green recently spoke to the group on the school and gave statistics which were felt to be of interest to the people of Frederick. Mr. Warren M. Switzer of the Trade School also informed the group of the different curricula, facilities, and courses offered in the Trade School, and conducted a tour of the shops and classes connected with it.

Each member has been assigned a research topic in order to acquaint the group with the customs, literature, and history of the two cities and their surrounding territory. When the projects have been completed, reports will be presented to the group on these different phases.

Arthur T. Gregorian will appear on WBZ-TV next Tuesday afternoon, at 4:15, to be interviewed by Mildred Carlson on the new book, Oriental Rugs and the Stories They Tell. He will show a few rugs and describe them to his video audience.

..All Dramatically Restyled...and Powered by Cadillac's Sensational New Engine!

TODAY, we are presenting, for your consideration, the finest, most beautiful motor cars we have ever been privileged to announce.

They are the new Cadillacs for 1950—and we want you to come and see them.

We not only want you to see them—but we think you should see them. For to see and inspect these wonderful creations will make you a sharper judge of all cars—and increase your motor-car wisdom in every respect.

There are four entirely new series of cars—all with wholly new bodies, and all completely restyled. We think you'll agree that nothing so sleek and dynamic and beautiful has ever been seen on the world's streets and highways. They are arrestingly and breath-takingly gorgeous—and all are distinctively Cadillac.

And not only are they advanced in beauty—but their performance is finer in every way.

Cadillac's great new high-compression engine is even smoother; it is actually quicker in acceleration; and it runs so quietly that only the indicators reveal when it is in action. It is simply wonderful to drive.

And—difficult as this will be for owners of 1949 Cadillacs to believe—the 1950 cars are even more economical to operate. Gasoline mileage really approaches that of the smaller, lowest-priced cars. It is no less than amazing that cars so big and luxurious should run so far on a gallon of gasoline.

Comfort and handling ease are also remarkably advanced. There is far finer road balance and over-all steadiness at all driving speeds. Steering is softer and more positive. Brakes are more efficient and longer-lived. The over-all satisfaction of driving—from every standpoint—is simply "out of this world."

Truly, here are cars so fine and beautiful that they deserve your personal consideration. Make your plans now to come in and see them. You will be cordially welcome at any time.

More Complete Nursing Care To Result in Expanded Program

Expanded Red Cross nursing programs soon will bring the possibility of more complete nursing care to communities throughout the nation, chapter officials here announced in surveying this traditional Red Cross service. The Red Cross nursing program is based on four main objectives:

1. Cooperation with, and supplementation of tax-supported nursing services, and services of other agencies.
2. Provision for voluntary community service by nurses.
3. Experimentation with new methods to maintain the highest quality of service.
4. Continuance and development of programs basic to the Red Cross charter obligations of service in times of disaster and other national emergencies.

In seeking to meet particular community needs, the American Red Cross has conducted research and experimented with new methods, particularly in the home nursing field, in which it offers two courses, "Home Care of the Sick" and "Mother and Baby Care and Family Health." Experimentation has demonstrated the advisability of teaching "one good way" and developing mastery of skills through demonstration and supervised practice. For example, the recommended method of handwashing has been adopted in vocational shop training and home economics courses all over the city. Public Health nurses are using the course for teaching skills in home visits. Nearly every person is faced at some time with the need for giving care to the sick or helpless at home. This care can be administered intelligently and skillfully when the individual has learned to use simple nursing skills that can safely be performed in the home.

The Newton Chapter provides instruction in Home Nursing through free classes conducted by qualified instructors. This instruction which includes care of mothers, infants, aged and infirm, as well as general family care, is available to any adult in the community, its schools and colleges.

The increasing health needs of the community and the continuing need for preparedness for emergencies such as epidemics and disasters has created a demand for nursing that is taxing local resources. Red Cross volunteer nurses' aides, first trained to serve in hospitals in World War II, now offer well-trained assistance to registered professional nurses in meeting these needs in the hospitals, public health clinics, convalescent homes, in the Massachusetts Blood Center in Boston, during Bloodmobile visits in Newton, and in the Heart Demonstration Program. Red Cross recruitment of nurses for special emergency duty continues to be a major chapter duty. In the first ten months of 1949, worst polio year on record, the Red Cross assigned 2756 nurses to 37 states and the District of Columbia for special polio duty. Salaries, transportation and maintenance of these nurses was paid by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. A total of 1572 nurses served 12,667 days in Red Cross disaster operations. Their duties included service in shelters and emergency medical stations, and home visits to ill and injured disaster victims. These nurses were recruited through the enrollment service of the Red Cross, which seeks to maintain an up-to-date file of all nurses actively interested in all phases of Red Cross, and willing to assist with both nursing and non-nursing programs. The Newton Chapter plays an important part in the provision for total health services within a community. To extend these vital services, it must rely on public-spirited citizens who are willing and able to participate in its activities.

Contribution Made to Schools

At the meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R., Monday, it was reported that a contribution had been made to the Newton Schools for their program of Adult Education and two barrels of clothing had been sent to Crossnore, one of the approved schools.

A paper, commemorating the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln was read by Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney and the Regent reported that on Feb. 22 a wreath would be placed at the statue of Washington in Boston. This is an annual observance of the D.A.R.

Mrs. William M. Morgan reported that she had distributed many manuals for Good Citizenship, including some to the Newton Schools of Adult Education. She is looking for more outlets. These manuals are printed in 18 languages.

Mrs. Edward B. Parker displayed a new Afghan which will be sent to the Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

surety companies insuring the performance bond posted by the Kelly Corporation. In case of non-compliance within the allotted time, it is expected that the City will make a claim upon the surety companies.

"From time to time since we moved into our homes in Oak Hill Park we have been assured by the Veterans Housing Authority that justifiable complaints would be taken care of, and we believe that the Authority has done and is doing everything in its power and wisdom to enforce exact compliance by the Kelly Corporation of its contractual obligations.

"We regret any inference that has been made publicly or privately that our homes are in shambles and that Oak Hill Park is a potential slum area. We are all proud of the homes we have bought and the community that is ours. We are anxious that Oak Hill Park be thought of as an integral part of Oak Hill and the City of Newton and not as an isolated camp of veterans.

"We believe that the Kelly Corporation is in default on certain of its contractual obligations. We intend to observe vigilantly the City's attempt to force the Kelly Corporation to make good on its obligations and until we are convinced that the City officials are letting us down, we heartily endorse their action and place our trust in them."

London String Quartet One of Most Famous Chamber Groups in World

The London String Quartet which will appear at Alumnae Hall March 8, as the Third Concert Series, is one of the most famous chamber music groups in the world. Chamber music works, especially quartets, are usually supposed to appeal to a very small group of music lovers, but the superb and dramatic playing of this group of brilliant musicians clarifies the obscure in musical ideas and projects a quality of dynamic intensity and verve which even the most technically untrained audience feels and appreciates. The musicianship demanded for ensemble playing of that calibre is even greater than solo work requires, as the training and individual instrumentalists will attest.

The London String Quartet will play at their Wellesley concert a varied program of Mozart, Ravel and Brahms. In the last, which is a Piano Quintet, they will be joined by pianist David Barnett of Wellesley, known also, among other things, for such other activities as managing the Concert Series.

Opposes Bill To Permit Taking Of Land For Store Purposes

At a Legislative hearing held last Thursday, Joseph L. Walsh, past commander of Newton Post, American Legion, opposed a bill to permit any city or town to re-sell for shopping centers land taken by eminent domain for veterans housing. His opposition came because he believed such a law might be subject to abuse.

GI home owners in the Oak Hill Park veterans project are behind the bill which would allow some of the land in that area to be sold for erection of stores.

Walsh stated that if such a bill is adopted, cities and towns might use it to take land by eminent domain unnecessarily for resale for commercial purposes. He did not favor or oppose the adoption of the bill as it applies to Newton, however.

Speaking in favor of the bill were Rep. George E. Rawson, Rep. Howard Whitmore, City Solicitor Matt Jones, Carl C. Mulen chairman of the local Veterans' Housing Department, and Franklin Flaschner, president of the Oak Hill Association.

The bill was filed by Senator Richard Lee to solve the problem in Oak Hill Park, by allowing the city to take land by eminent domain for the erection of stores.

The committee which was held by the Committee on Mercantile Affairs, took the matter under advisement.

Our Lady's Pin Upset On St. Mary's (W), 41-38

By ED PISELLI

Our Lady's scored an upset victory over their arch-rival and defender of top spot in the Catholic League Division 2, St. Mary's of Waltham in an uphill, bitterly contested encounter last Friday night, 41-38, at the high school gym, thus giving the clubs one win apiece in their two meetings. Playing to an over-flow crowd, the Gallaghers moved to within one game of the first place Saints, who now have a 10-2 slate as against 9-3 for the second place Purple and Gold.

As was expected, the affair was a thriller from beginning to end, with neither quintet giving nor taking any quarter. After a see-saw battle during most of the game, the locals edged out ahead before the third quarter ended and successfully maintained their lead for the rest of the fray, the fourth quarter being of the nail biting variety for most of the home town rooters.

Uneering accuracy from the foul stripe was a prime reason for Our Lady's surprise victory, out-pointing the visitors 13-4 in this important department, although St. Mary's had very few attempts via the foul line. The locals had, more or less, control of the back-board, but could do nothing toward halting the spectacular shooting of Charlie Fister, who hit for 15, and Joe Tibbeau, next in line with 14, all floor flaps. As it came out, this admirable floor game was in vain. Our Lady's showing their power at the charity stripe.

Center Dick Butler was high with 11 points, three via the foul line route, and runner-up Barry Waters with 8, four from the charity stripe. But drawing most of the admiring cheers from the excited fans was the outstanding performance rendered by second-stringer Jim Murphy, who flipped in three markers and a foul to help spark his mates to their surprise triumphs. Bill Bertrand, another one of Coach Charlie Gallagher's proteges, came in for a six-point total, while treating the partisan crowd to a fine spirited exhibition.

St. Mary's jumped away to a fast start in the opening frame, Joe Tibbeau tossing in four field goals, and a couple of floor shots chipped in by forward Charlie Fister, a standout on the Watch Citian's lineup. Trailing by four points at the start, the Gallaghers were late in putting their offense in action, and were down 17-7 when the first quarter ended.

Tibbeau kept up his deadly pace in the second, dribbling the length of the floor for a layup, followed by a keyhole sinker authored by center Frank Curry. The locals then put their attack in high-gear, with Waters hitting from the foul stripe, a drive in layup by Murphy, and four digits via the gift line, two contributed by Butler and a brace by Bill McCarthy. Murphy then knotted the count at the 16 figure with a neatly executed corner set shot. Big Joe Harrington broke the tie on a layup, but Our Lady's moved into the deadlock again on two foul tries by Bertrand and Waters, making it 18-11.

But the time wasn't just right yet, and the Saints broke out in front again to lead at the half, 23-20, on a pushup by Tibbeau, a Harrington foul shot, and a one-hand flip by Fister.

Butler led the parade in the second half, hitting for two successive markers, a side set and layup, followed by McCarthy with a keyhole jump shot, moving into a three-point margin. Bertrand extended this lead, dribbling in for a layup, but the issue was deadlocked again by the Saints when Fister made good on a foul and a drive-in, and a mid-floor swish chipped in by Tibbeau making it 28-11.

The Gallaghers took the initiative once again, Mike Bowman breaking the tie on a charity flip, a layup by Waters, who also followed up with duo of foul flings, hanging at 33-30 edge on the Sal Mazzarini-coached quintet at the end of the third frame.

The finale was a torrid affair, Our Lady's utilizing every device to keep possession of the ball and protect a none to healthy lead. After a jump set shot by Fister early in the chapter, the league leaders were kept at bay while the Purple and Gold added eight points to squeeze out a creditable 41 to 38 victory.

In a preliminary game, the juniors helped make the evening complete by taking the St. Mary's junior set, 24-21.

Poor Fourth Period Gives Waltham Victory

By JOE McGAFFIGAN

Thanks to a miserable fourth period Newton High's hoopsters bowed to their arch-rival Waltham, 38-33 last Friday night.

The Smiths couldn't curb the sharp shooting of the visitors in the second half and this costly defeat kills any hopes the Tigers had of winning the Suburban League Title and leaves them in a second place tie with Brookline both with identical records of six wins and four defeats. Waltham has won the title for four straight years and should be fairly successful in the state interscholastic basketball tourney. Captain Bud McQueeney and Burt Peck both played their usual successful games for the Smiths tossing in ten points apiece for a losing cause.

Wally Beavers started the fireworks by stealing the ball and laying it up for the initial score of the game. The Crimson Wave came back to take the lead at the end of the period 10-6.

Spearheaded by McQueeney, the Tigers forced ahead of the staggering visitors to hold a half time lead of 18-16.

The second half was definitely Waltham's as Newton tried in vain to protect their slim lead against the deadly accurate shooting of the Crimson Warriors.

Ralph Barisano matched O'Hara's free throw and McQueeney's push made it 21-17. Burt Peck's long set equalled McQueeney's push and the Tigers still held a four point lead. Waltham's O'Hara's set and foul shot coupled with McQueeney's push and charity toss made it Waltham 25, Newton 23. Burt Peck's three consecutive foul shots put the Tigers ahead 26-25 for the last time in the game. O'Hara swished a long set with five seconds remaining in the third period.

The final stanza saw Waltham prove why they are leading the Suburban League with ten victories and only one defeat. After a layup by Waltham's Joe Arsenault and a foul shot by Ralph Barisano (Newton), the visitors really poured it on. Arsenault and McCue and O'Hara tallied from the foul stripe and McCue lengthened their lead to 34-27 with a fancy push. The Tigers snapped out of it temporarily, Peck and Curley sank foul shots and Dicky Quinlan kept their hopes alive scoring twice from the charity stripe. McCue made it final as he sank a push plus a free throw to make it 37-31 with a minute and a half to go. Arsenault tallied from the foul line and McCue's layup as the bell rang finished the scoring in Waltham 38, Newton 33.

Newton's only consolation of the defeat was the way in which the Intermediate squad played. They walloped their opposition 47-28 in a real give-go battle in which Fred Dauten tallied 12 points. Box score:

Newton Sextet Pulls 5-1 Victory on Stoneham

By ED PISELLI

Newton High did their best to confuse G.B.I. Hockey League officials last Saturday afternoon by defeating a first-rate second division Stoneham sextet quite conclusively, 5-1, to produce the upset of the day at the Boston Garden in the second round of playoff. Stoneham, which was considered by many the darling of second division and a possible choice for league honors, never once during the tilt played up to its usual standards. In direct contrast, the Jack Hall-coached sextet turned in a fine piece of inspired and skillful hockey, undoubtedly the best performance of the season.

Scoring chores were evenly divided among the Halls, with Dan Keefe posting one in the first frame, Bob Thompson and Dick Beatty in the middle session, and Doug Manchester and Doug Evans in the finale to give the Orange one of their rare accomplishments, hitting the five figure mark.

Newton drew first blood early in the initial period, Keefe blazing in on goalie Charlie D'Entremont on the right wing and registering on a difficult angle shot at 1m.30s. soling all the way. Without the services of Stoneham's crack center, Paul Norden, the opposition had difficulty assembling forces for power drives on Frank Feeley's cage, but did manage to send the equalizer netward at the four minute, 40 second mark. Richard Burns sped down the middle and passed off to his right to Ken Leland, who flashed the disc past Feeley from 15 feet out.

Later in that frame the Orange got a near-miss in a wild scramble in front of the cage, the official's whistle breaking things up.

It was Newton's game during the rest of the tussle, and they enjoyed a field day at the expense of a thoroughly disorganized Stoneham aggregation. Bob Thompson teamed with Keefe to put across the second tally in the middle chapter, zipping the rubber past D'Entremont at 4:57. The Halls aggressiveness continued in this round, resulting in a scoring spree that completely demoralized their opponent. Dick Beatty carried on the assault with a cleverly executed solo, sweeping in on the right and back-handing a slider into the Stoneham net at 7m.41s.

Everything went right for the Newton sextet, and before the second period buzzer, Doug Manchester rang up another tally, after taking a pass from Beatty, and zig-zagging his way in and around a trio of defensesmen, finally jabbing a marker into the left corner. Beatty got an assist on the play, but Manchester actually carried out the operation on his own, just beating the 10 minute buzzer at 9:55.

With a healthy 4-1 margin going into the last session, the Halls staved off any serious attempts at their cage, and simply loafed through the remainder of the finale until Doug Evans lit the lamp late in the period. Starting from his own blue line, Evans raced down the right wing, and whistled the disc past the harried goalie from about the 20-foot mark at just 9:22s.

Newton Quintet Edges Cambridge Latin, 48-46

By JOE McGAFFIGAN

In one of the most bitterly protested contests witnessed in Suburban League competition this season, Newton High's quintet edged Cambridge Latin 48-46 last Tuesday in Cambridge's gym. All the rumpus started when the official scorer provided Newton with two extra points. Midway through the fourth stanza the scoreboard read NEWTON 42, CAMBRIDGE 41. A timeout was called and it was announced that it should read 44-41 according to the scorer's blunder. Latin's coach protested violently but to no avail and the game almost ended in a riot. However the referee upheld the scorer's (amazing?) discovery and awarded the Smiths the two points which eventually turned out to be their margin of victory. Maybe the Tigers would have won the game anyway, but this was a severe blow to the Cantabs' morale.

The victory gave the Smiths an official record of six wins and three defeats and an overall record of eight victories in twelve starts and placed them in a second place deadlock with Brookline High behind Waltham. Captain Bud McQueeney led the Tiger attack with twenty points, closely followed by Dick Quinlan with fifteen. These two are currently leading the Tigers in scoring. Quinlan scored seven of the Tigers' first eleven points in the first period when they led 11-7. The second period was spiced by some fancy shooting from the outside by both clubs, but Latin sliced Newton's lead by two points to 28-23.

Midway through the third period the Smiths raised it to 34-26 but then the boys from Cambridge got hot. Following six straight points by his teammates, Bill Scott settled it at 34-34 and Jom Crowley's shot of the same variety put Latin ahead for the first time in the contest. They kept rolling as Crowley set again and Ed Asaley tossed in a charity throw to make it 39-34. The Tigers came roaring back; sets by Quinlan and Lowell Depper plus a fancy push by McQueeney put them ahead 42-41.

It was here that the controversy started. Cambridge Latin's scorer was the official scorer because he represented the home team and the referee decided that the two points should belong to the Tigers much to the disappointment of the prejudiced crowd. Ten minutes and 1,000 words later, the game continued.

McQueeney sank a charity toss and Scotty Price (filling in for the ailing Curley) put together a hook and a free throw to make it 48-41, Newton. Latin finished strong with Crowley swishing both a long set and a free toss and Jack Igo laying one up. The Tigers succeeded in freezing the ball for the final ten seconds.

Sullivans Make Good for Second Win in Playoffs

Pulling out all the stops, the Our Lady's sextet racked up their second victory in the Catholic Hockey League second division playoffs, hanging a 5-2 score on St. John's of Danvers, at the Boston Arena last Sunday afternoon. Luke Fannon led the way with a performance of the "hat trick" and joined in the scoring spree by Russ Cheetham and Bill Graham, as the boys doing their tricks in the first two periods.

The Jim Sullivan-coached aggregation made it two straight over hapless St. John's, belting them 6-1 at the start of the season, and followed the same formula for Sunday's win.

A substitution of goalie by Sullivan in the middle frame and again in the finale, Charlie Cutala for regular Bill Lawn, resulted in both tallies by the Saints, while Cutala was net custodian. Bill Shea in the second chapter and Ed Feeley late in the final accounted for the scoring, but these efforts came after the Sullivans capped their victory.

The locals knew what they were about and stormed down on unsuspecting goalie Marna Porchaski, Fannon getting his first on an assist from Tom Dillon, lighting the lamp at just 368. The tally came while Dan Crowley was in the penalty box. Fannon followed up a little more than a minute later, scoring from mid-ice, blasting the disc netward at 1:42.

Our Lady's proved to have the upper hand throughout the fray and pushed their attack without a letup. What looked like a sure lamp-lighter late in the initial frame for the rampaging locals went by the boards on an official's ruling.

But in the middle chapter the enterprising Sullivans took up business once again, Cheetham powering in on the right boards and firing from about 10-feet, the puck glancing off the goalie's upraised arm and dropping in for the third marker.

George Pettee teamed with Fannon for the ace wingman's third goal, passing in from the right boards, Fannon whistling in a 15-footer at 4m. 42s.

Graham accounted for the fifth tally, driving in on the left side after picking the disc up at mid-ice, lashing in a back-hander at 7:12, no assist on the play.

The Saints got one back at 8:11 after Lawn had been replaced by Cutala, Ray LeMay taking a pass from Bill Shea and hitting the net with neat slider.

The last session was a lackadaisical affair with Our Lady's contented to protect their sizable edge, Sullivan giving his bench boys a chance on the ice. With a few seconds remaining, St. John's beat Cutala again, Ed Feeley soloing all the way for a tally at 9:41.

OUR LADY'S: Lawn, g; Fannon, lw; Dillon, c; Pettee, ld; Cronin, rw; McKinnon, rd. SPARES: Graham, Van Steenberg, Cheetham, Cutala, Oldfield, Jennings.

ST. JOHN'S: M. Porchaski, g; Montminy, lw; LeMay, rw; L. Porchaski, c; Crowley, rd; Fish, rd. SPARES: MacDonald, Feeley, Shea, McGreener.

A series of Lenten lectures will be offered on Friday evenings, February 24 through March 31 in the Elliot Church by Dr. Elmer A. Leslie, professor of Old Testament Literature at the Boston University School of Theology. "Lenten Paths Through the Psalms" will be the subject of the series.

Newton Scouts Preparing for Second Jamboree

The Second National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America, to be held at Valley Forge State Park commencing in late June, is commanding the increasing attention of Newton Scouts as the registration deadline approaches. Page Sanderson of Wellesley, Chairman of the Jamboree Committee, points out that this is a Scouting project which must be planned early, as it involves substantial pre-training and quota arrangements on a national basis. The number of Norumbega Council Scouts who may attend is limited.

For the Scouts, the Jamboree will be a once-in-a-lifetime adventure. They will meet Scouts from all over the country, and from many foreign lands. They will absorb historical lore of their own country, see some of the first shrines of the birth of their own nation. On the more practical side, they will learn how to improve their Scoutcraft: how to make better camp and cooking fires; how to make packs, useful gadgets and camp furniture; how to get more enjoyment and comfort out of the basic materials which nature provides. In these ways the Jamboree will become a fitting climax to the 40th Anniversary Crusade to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty."

 spiritual, educational and recreational needs. Last year a quarter million dollars was collected and used in this work.

The annual event is sponsored by women's devotional groups throughout the world, and in this country by the United Council of Church Women, an organization representing 10,000,000 women.

The Newton observance is open to everyone. It will be held in the Newton Highlands Congregational Church at the invitation of Mrs. Frederic Grootsema and Mrs. Francis Seaway, President of their Women's Association, who will be pleased to take luncheon reservations until two days in advance. The lunch, at 12:30, will be 50c; and there will be a teacher on hand to take care of small children during the whole program, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

From 11 to 12:30, there will be prayer and meditation on the world-wide theme of the day, "Faith for our Time." This part of the observance will be led by Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville; Mrs. Marshall I. Stone of the Unitarian Society, Newton Centre; Mrs. Paul Sheldford of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre; Miss Marion S. Fuller of Second Church, West Newton; Mrs. Anthony Jauregui of Trinity Church, Newton Centre; and Mrs. Leslie Johnson of the Newton Methodist Church.

The afternoon service will begin at 1:30. The speaker at this service will be the Rev. Dr. Everett C. Herrick, former President of Andover Newton Theological Seminary; his subject: "Mary and Martha."
 "Was there ever a time," asked the local chairman, "when there was greater need of joining hands across the earth in prayer? In this could be the very power which the world seeks—power for the healing of the nations."

the last war. Costs are up so high now that necessary improvements will run into very costly figures. He reported that Newton's present valuations of $200,000, although very comfortable compared to some of our neighboring cities, is by no means permanent, and could quite readily be lowered, especially citing the Waltham closings.

Mr. Thompson spoke on encouraging the development of manufacturing and business in all the Newtons, and especially bringing new interests into Newton Corner, which he reported really should be the gateway to Newton. Renovation of older buildings by the present owners would be the surest way to raise the desirability of locating new concerns in the Corner.

Mr. Lorenz F. Muther Jr. pointed out that because Newton Corner has many older and less valuable buildings on fully completed tracts, apartment houses are the logical solution to produce increased revenue and valuations. Mr. Muther, said the question of strict enforcement of the unauthorized third story apartments in single residences proves a difficult problem, and how much better for the city as a whole if they were either curtailed by official action or were made legal.

He said the social factors involved in permitting new apartment houses to be built, together with revision of the limitation on the height of apartment buildings, are problems that public discussion, such as this meeting, could alone solve.

Mr. Robert J. Burns, President of John T. Burns, Inc. spoke of the need of revising our building and zoning laws so that large single residences can be legally changed into two or three apartment units, maintaining a single residence exterior while producing revenue for the owner and good homes for tenants.

Mr. Burns stated that there are now between 600 to 700 houses containing "bootleg" apartments in the city, all in violation of our present building code and zoning laws. He deplored this condition and urged city officials to do something along the lines of a survey made and reported by his brother, John T. Burns in 1940.

An open discussion followed, in which speakers and the audience joined wholeheartedly. It was the general feeling of the group that when the forthcoming Adam's Report is published, another meeting should be held so that this group's Planning Board might explain the report in detail.

Peirce School Class Has Police Inspection and Study Units

The second grade pupils at Peirce School are learning about their community helpers. This Social Studies Unit teaches the best ways of living together. These future citizens achieve deeper insight into the nature of our social world, and greater competence in the civic skills of group living. At present the police have the spotlight in their classroom.

The usual daily inspection has been changed to a strict police inspection with competition between two police squads—the Northwest Mounted Police and the State Motorcyclists. Clean fingernails, neat hair, and polished shoes are included in the inspection. The classroom library is filled with books about the police. Songs and games such as the "Traffic Cop" can be seen and heard during this study.

The number word pertains to learning of time—when officers report on and off duty. Spelling words about the police are easier learned when studying this unit. The interest of the radio in the police cars have led to the study of sound and radio in science. Pupils will be writing "thank you" letters to those who helped with the trip to the Newton Police Station. Paintings and drawings of various phases of the policemen's duties will be scattered around the room and the halls. In addition to learning through books and vicarious experiences, they learned through first hand experiences—a trip to the Newton Police Station.

Chief Purcell, a former pupil of the Peirce School, gave a hearty welcome. Those accompanying the children were Mrs. Antoinette S. Work, teacher; Miss Ann L. Caldwell, principal, and Dr. Nathan H. Skornik, father of one of the pupils. The guide, Sgt. Corcoran, was very gracious and did not want the children to miss a thing. Some of the things seen were police wagons, chest protectors, guns and ammunition, cells, the photo room, pulmotors, the Traffic Department, fingerprint materials, the guard room, radios, bank alarms, switchboards, teletypes, magic mirrors in doors, and police box tapes.

This experience was captured through William L. Winston, Coordinator of Audio-Visual Aids for Newton Schools, who took Kodachrome still pictures of the trip, therefore, the experiences can be shared with others. In addition to the information gathered and attitudes learned, the pupils now realize that our community workers extend beyond the traffic officer.

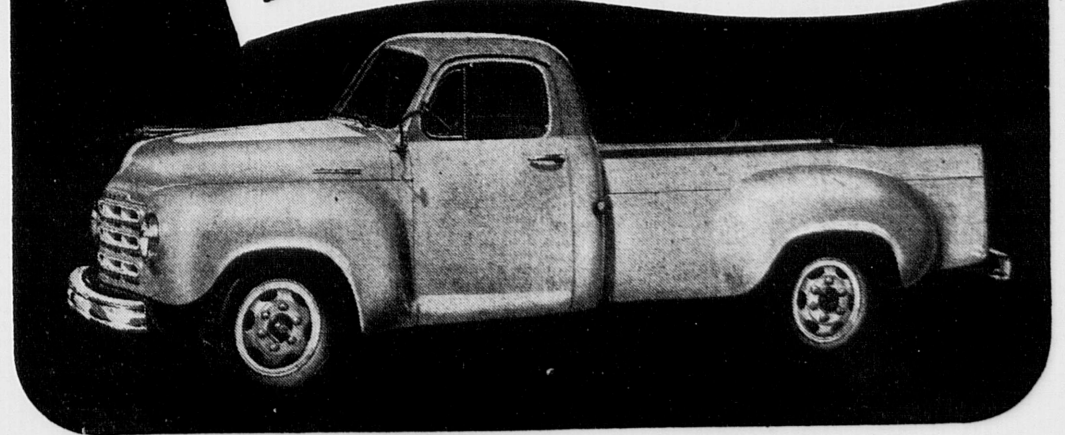

Dr. and Mrs. Lauren V. Ackerman (Elizabeth Fitts) of Webster Groves, Mo., are parents of their fourth child, a daughter, born February 7, in Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, Mo. Grandparents are Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, 79 Pembroke street, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Ackerman, of Munnsville, N. Y.

Gives Talk on "Education for Living"

Dr. Abram Leon Sachar, First President of Brandeis University, addressed a capacity meeting of the Newton Rotary Club Monday on the subject, "Education for Civilized Living".

The speaker was introduced by Harold B. Gores. He illustrated the major points of his address from his broad educational background as member of the History Department of the University of Illinois, his education at Washington University, Harvard College, and Cambridge University.

Dr. Sachar presented an historical perspective for civilized living in the age of the hydrogen bomb, and contrasted the American attitude of mind at the turn of the century with the current attitude. Specifically, Dr. Sachar asserted that America has historically held to the opinion that given the time, all human problems were solvable, that peace, prosperity and social amity need but await the attention of men of good will. Today Dr. Sachar laments that the typical American attitude is one to the inevitability of doom.

Too many persons have been driven to the belief that man's destiny is beyond his control, that war, depression, and social friction are the natural order of things. For the educator Dr. Sachar suggested that arguments of refinements of teaching method are irrelevant to the basic problem of establishing the earlier American climate of solvability.

Warmth Essential To Hospitality

At the last meeting of the St. Mary's Junior Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. L. J. Edel, 56 Fuller Brook road, Wellesley, the members enjoyed a talk by Miss Riley of the Norfolk Extension Service entitled "Helpful Hints to the Hostess." Miss Riley spoke in introduction of the work of the Extension Service which is sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and is especially helpful to people in the more rural communities which do not have such easy access to Boston as does Wellesley. The Service publishes booklets on all the arts of homemaking, from making favors for children's parties to decorating the living room, any of which may be obtained by writing to the Norfolk Extension Service, Walpole.

As for hints to the hostess, Miss Riley said that just because the hostess has the house clean and the food ready does not mean she can collapse in a chair when the guests arrive and think her work is done. She must "think about the other person and radiate the warmth of genuine hospitality." Plain food in an unpretentious home where there is real hospitality can make for a much more enjoyable party than a banquet in a "showplace" where there is only coldness or snobbishness.

and treatment of heart disease depends upon the research successes of the doctors, there still are common-sense rules which will help a person live more happily with an aging heart if he will observe them," said Mr. Gates. "Therefore, the Massachusetts Heart Association has developed a set of such rules which we call the 'Ten Commandments for Living with Your Heart.' If people will observe these rules, the number of cripples and killings resulting from heart trouble might be reduced."

The Ten Commandments are:

1. Find a doctor you respect, obey him, and cling to him as though he were your most precious possession, as he is.
2. Tell him the truth at all times, and encourage him to call you in for periodic check-ups.
3. Pity the fat man; the statistician numbers his days.
4. If your brain earns your living, be moderate as a week end athlete or laborer.
5. When the snow drifts high, let some younger fellow shovel out the driveway.
6. Avoid self-dosing — "he who doctors himself has a fool for a physician."
7. Fortune is the man who has a mild heart condition and, knowing it, learns to live with his heart.
8. Plan to take "time out" — daily, weekly, yearly — for rest. When you rest, your heart rests.
9. Health is more than the absence of disease. Don't worry. If you have cause to worry, do all you can to remedy the cause, and stop worrying.
10. Be your age.

This is the ride that cradles you in the lowest-built car of them all!

And amazing head room is only one kind of spaciousness you'll find in these great cars! Through "step-

Discusses Possible Future Of Newton Junior College

Beginning with a brief outline of the Junior College movement in general, William C. Greene, first president of the Council and now serving as chairman of the Junior College committee, discussed very frankly the place of such an educational institution in Newton and its possible future growth. "Young men just out of high school are finding it difficult to get jobs," Mr. Greene said. "The PTA Council at its February Executive Board meeting, 'Meanwhile, college boys are being told that there aren't enough executive jobs for them to fill but there are jobs of a subprofessional sort which they may have to take. The need for Junior College education of this sub-professional sort seems inevitably growing.'"

Newton Junior College was opened in September of 1946, in large part to meet the needs of returning veterans who found the established colleges overcrowded. Students are offered six curricula: Liberal Arts, Pre-Engineering, General Education, Technical-Vocational, Business Administration and Secretarial. During the first years, enrollment ran high and there was a good record of transfer to four-year colleges in both sophomore and junior years. With the waning of need by the veteran, the college enrollment has declined somewhat and there has been a shift in student interest from courses preparatory to transfer to four-year colleges to courses in terminal education, for the civilian students who want to be educated for something are increasing and this is important. Mr. Greene pointed out that the Newton Junior College renders a service in line with the recent recommendation of President James B. Conant of Harvard for the establishment of community colleges to serve post-high school youth who do not anticipate four-year liberal arts training or immediate employment upon high school graduation.

Mr. Greene, who was ably assisted by Mrs. Dwight Colburn in compiling the data for the report, acknowledged the help given by Dr. C. Elwood Drake, director of the Newton Junior College, and James B. Forbes, director of Technical-Vocational Education in Newton. He concluded by saying that, at present, the Newton Junior College can handle a substantial increase in enrollment, and he urged the Council members to give active support to the college and assist in spreading wider knowledge about it to prospective students and their parents.

George Koller, president of the PTA Council, presided at the meeting which was devoted, in part, to a report of the Teachers' Salaries committee. Dr. Leo Alexander, chairman of the committee, told the Council that a study had been made of data gathered during the past two years to see whether in Newton are enabling our schools to maintain their high standards. "In the past," said Dr. Alexander, "Newton has been an acknowledged leader in the field of education. Many people coming to the Greater Boston area have chosen Newton as the community in which to live because of the reputation of its schools. An adequate salary scale is of primary importance in obtaining and keeping excellent teachers, and we in Newton should be constantly aware of this and jealously guard our leadership." Other members of this committee are Ralph Samuelson, representing the Newton Teachers Federation, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Pierce School, and Mrs. Leo Alexander.

Max Gelles, 61, of Dorchester, Boston neckwear manufacturer for over 30 years, and father of Mrs. Daisy Turin, 17 Philmore road, died at the New England Deaconess Hospital February 6.

Says Ice Is Most Treacherous of All Driving Surfaces

"Ice is the most treacherous surface over which any motorist ever is called upon to drive," Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department said in a statement issued this week.

"The principal causes of accidents in such weather are speed, improper use of brakes, and lack of traction. If you have to stop on ice, apply pressure to the brakes lightly and intermittently, jamming them on causes the brakes to lock and the first thing you know the car is out of control and skidding all over the place."

As a matter of fact, the chief added, attempting to drive on ice-covered streets without the use of tire chains is foolhardy, and should be avoided if possible.

"Tests conducted by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards show that a vehicle traveling only 20 miles an hour on ice without tire chains will skid about 183 feet after the brakes are applied. With tire chains on the rear wheels, a car traveling at the same speed can stop on ice in about 88 feet. At 40 miles per hour on ice the average skid goes up to 732 feet. Chains reduce it to 352 feet, but obviously it is foolish to drive at 40 miles per hour on glare ice. So, if you have to drive, put on chains and take it easy; but it's even better to leave your car at home."

Other helpful precautions suggested by Chief Purcell include keeping a good distance between vehicles, and use of extra care at corners and intersections coupled with signals for turns or stops given in ample time to warn cars behind.

Know Your City Government

The Planning Board

By JOHN W. KELLAR, Chairman

Another in a series of feature articles presented by The Graphic as a public service to better acquaint the citizens of Newton with their government.

Mr. Kellar was born in Newton and has always resided here, except for war years. He graduated from the Newton schools, and M.I.T., in the class of 1922. A veteran of World War I, a member of American Legion Post No. 48, Mr. Kellar served the Federal Government during World War II in Washington and Boston. He now serves as a trustee of the West Newton Savings Bank. He is also a director of the Newton National Bank. He has three children, all educated in Newton. His business is general building and contracting.

Question: Planning Boards are new in City Management affairs, are they not?

Mr. Kellar: My answer to that would be "No" in one respect and "Yes" in another. Planning Board duties and functions have been undertaken by Town and City fathers for many generations in their endeavor to plan for the public health, development of their town, village or municipality and for financing the cost of such programs. This held true in Newton as well as elsewhere.

Legally, the Planning Board was created as such in Newton on December 3, 1913, by an order passed by the Board of Aldermen under General Laws Chapter 41, Section 70, 71 and 72. Its duties under this authority were limited to making careful studies of the resources, possibilities and needs of the City particularly with reference to conditions injurious to the public health or otherwise in and about rented dwellings, to making plans for the development of the municipality, with special reference to proper housing of its inhabitants.

On May 20, 1925, the Board of Aldermen accepted the Board of Survey Act, General Laws Chapter 41, which under certain sections, enabled the Planning Board upon vote of the Board of Aldermen to act as Board of Survey. Under certain sections of Chapter 211 of the Acts of 1936 entitled "Improved Methods of Municipal Planning" the Planning Board acting as a Board of Survey passes upon the opening of private ways for public use, approving, modifying and approving or disapproving the layout of such ways and to location, alignment of grade and drainage and other factors pertinent to the development of the subdivision.

On March 6, 1947, the Planning Board recommended and the Board of Aldermen on August 18 amended certain paragraphs of Section 170, Chapter 22, of the Revised Ordinances of 1939 so that all streets hereafter constructed on private lands by the owners thereof shall be constructed only under the supervision of the City Engineer and according to strict specifications, performance bonds are also required and no building permits are issued until all requirements are satisfied. This will in time save the City a great deal of money for road construction and at the same time insure better roads or streets for new developments.

The Planning Board has held many hearings and will hold many more in the future on petitions for the development of undeveloped areas within the City. This has been brought about by the rapid growth of the City both in population and the accompanying need for more dwellings.

Question: Are the members of the Planning Board elected or appointed?

Answer: The members are appointed. The Planning Board consists of seven members. The City Engineer and Street Commissioner are members of the Board ex-officio. Upon expiration of term of office of any appointed member, his successor is appointed for the term of three years from the date of his appointment. The members of the Board serve without compensation. The present members are Thomas R. King, certified public accountant; William J. Payne, banker; Theodore H. Oakley, insurance; Stanley C. Lovell, industrial chemist; John W. Kellar, contractor, chairman; Ashley Q. Robinson, city engineer, and Harold F. Young, street commissioner.

Question: Does the Planning Board have other duties beyond acting as Board of Survey on matters pertaining to opening of private ways and subdivisions?

Answer: Yes. The Board over a period of years has developed studies for physical improvements of the City and made many recommendations to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen which have been carried into effect. Many others have not been carried out, however, primarily because of the capital expenditures required but it is hoped that the more important ones will be in the near future; for example, the modernization of Newton Corner which has been under consideration for a number of years and the acquiring of tracts of land surrounding the Newton City Hall for the development of a Civic Centre. Such a centre to consist of a building to be used by the public community services, that is, the Welfare, Health and Veterans' Services Departments; another building to be constructed for the use of the general offices maintained by the School Department; a third building is highly desirable for housing the general community services, that is, among others, the Community Chest, Community Council, Boy Scouts, District Nursing, Catholic Welfare, Family Service Bureau, etc. The advantage of housing these services in the same building is obvious inasmuch as many of them co-operate and work together for the good of the City. Such planning, however, as I said before, requires large capital expenditures and in view of the present capital expenditures program and its entailed borrowing, must be relegated to the future.

Another very important function of the Planning Board is the work in connection with zoning. The zoning ordinance regulates the construction of buildings and structures and the use of buildings, structures and land in the City of Newton and divides the City into districts. The districts are seven in number, that is, seven classes, namely: Single Residence A, District B, District C, District D, General Business, and Manufacturing. The Board of Aldermen may, from time to time, change the ordinance by amendment, addition or repeal, but no ordinance modifying the district boundary so established or changing the regulation or restrictions to be enforced shall be adopted until after the Planning Board has held public hearing, after due notice given, and a final report submitted with recommendations to the Board of Aldermen. A two-thirds vote of the Board of Aldermen is required to make the change.

Due to the rapid growth of the City the Planning Board has held many public hearings on proposed changes in the zoning of the City; in fact so many petitions have been received and the physical development of the City has been so rapid that the Planning Board recommended to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen that a re-study be made of the entire zoning ordinance and zoning classification of the City. The recommendation was accepted last fall with the result that Professor Adams of M.I.T. and his associates have been retained by the City to make such a study. This study has been going on for approximately five months and will shortly culminate in a public hearing on the proposed changes and subsequent action by the Board of Aldermen. The proposed changes should bring about needed improvements in the ordinance and physical layout of the City for future growth.

I would like to speak on one more very important function of the Planning Board. That is its function as the Long Range Planning Commission. The duties are primarily one of planning and forecasting the needs of the several departments of the City Government in the nature of capital expenditures over five year periods. The first report and recommendation for capital expenditures was presented to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen in April, 1948, covering the years 1948 to 1952 with the result that the State Legislature passed a bill allowing the City of Newton to borrow up to five million dollars outside of the debt limit for capital outlay. Of this borrowing varying sums are allocated to the several departments of the City to be spent over a period of five years. For example, the School Department will spend approximately three million two hundred thousand dollars for new schools and alterations to old which will go a long way towards alleviating the crowded conditions in some of the schools and at the same time take care of the increasing enrollment in certain sections of the City. The amount allocated to the Street and Sewer Department will result in badly needed street improvements and sewage disposal. Added recreational facilities are planned through the Recreation Department as well as several new Fire Stations, a new Police garage, additional Library facilities and many other projects.

In order to arrive at a recommendation to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen on capital expenditures over a long period, it is necessary to make a very detailed study, consuming many months, of a financial history of the City covering a number of years, the growth in population, the condition of the streets and sewage disposal, the tax rate, and other factors. With this data worked out in statistical form, each department reported to the Planning Board what it felt was its needs in the way of capital expenditures over the next five years and the reason thereof. With this information it was then necessary to forecast the growth of the City in matters such as income from all sources, population growth, increased building, increased school enrollment, increased costs and many other factors. With all available information at hand it was necessary to join the past with the future and arrive at a plan of capital expenditures for the next five years that would be within the capacity of the City to pay and yet not increase the tax rate to a large degree.

I think it might be of interest to the listeners to learn in a more detailed account what the approximate allocations are for the several departments of the City for the six year period 1948 to 1953 bearing in mind that these are capital expenditures and not general costs of maintaining and managing City affairs. The sums which I will mention directly are figures received primarily from borrowing within the debt limit of the City and by borrowing outside the debt limit of the City through special legislation. The approximate total amounts to about ten million dollars. Of that sum the Street Department will have at its command approximately two million nine hundred thousand dollars; sewer extensions, about one million four hundred thousand dollars; Veterans' housing, one million four hundred thousand dollars; Police Department garage, fifty thousand dollars; Fire Department for new stations and renovation of old, approximately five hundred sixty-eight thousand dollars; the Library Department, approximately one hundred seventy thousand dollars; Recreation Department, three hundred twelve thousand dollars; School Department, three million two hundred thousand dollars.

It is hoped in all cases except the School Department to equalize the spending by each department each year over the period of six years. In the case of the School Department, it is deemed advisable to start all projects, for which allocations have been made, before 1951 in order that advantage may be taken of possible State aid under Chapter 645, Acts of 1948, which terminates that year. At least, the City will be in a position to receive such aid if the City School Building Program falls within the legal definition of the Act.

It is believed by the Planning Board that the Long Range Plan as briefly outlined will be of great benefit to the City even though the cost may seem staggering.

Question: It has been said several times that the Planning Board is the authority to see that its decision is final in matters of zoning, planning, etc. Is that correct?

Answer: No, it is not correct. The Planning Board as I said before is an appointed body and its function is one primarily of studying problems that arise in matters of subdivisions, zoning and long range planning and, after a decision is reached in its own body, of recommending to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen certain actions to be taken. The final decision, therefore, rests with the Mayor and Board of Aldermen in all cases.

Railroad Wins Issue On Billboard Rights

Protests made by residents and civic organizations of the City against the erection of billboards at Newton railroad stations, lost their fight for the removal of the signs.

Officials of the Boston & Albany railroad stated that the signs were part of a drive to make up for revenue lost in the decrease in suburban patronage. They contended that they have the right under the law to put up the signs, both inside and outside their stations. They said, however, that the billboards are visible only to patrons of the road and are not visible from the streets.

Newton organizations, including the Upper Falls Improvement Association, the Waban Improvement Association and the Newtonville Improvement Association, protested against the billboards.

City ordinances provide that permits must be issued by the Board of Aldermen for all billboards erected in the city, but exempts railroads.

The section of the ordinance which exempts railroads from the requirements of obtaining permits for billboards, is as follows:

"This ordinance shall not apply to signs or other devices on or in the rolling stock, stations or structures of or used by common carriers except on bridges or viaducts or abutments thereof, or to devices which advertise or indicate either the persons occupying the premises in question or the business transacted thereon, or advertise the property itself or any part thereof as for sale or to let and which contain no other advertising matter; and provided further that this ordinance shall not apply to billboards, signs, or other advertising devices, legally maintained at the time of its effective date until one year from the first day of July following said effective date, provided, however, that it shall apply immediately to any sign, billboard or other advertising device, erected, maintained or displayed in violation of article 24 of the building code."

Railroad officials in a letter to the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association stated: "It is our hope that we will not be condemned when the facts are known as to the real reason for the installation of advertising billboards"

Injured When Hit By Skidding Auto

Slipping on the ice near her home in Newton Centre last Thursday, Miss Dorothy I. Burns, 19, of 380 Parker street, was struck by a skidding automobile. She suffered an injury to her left leg and was taken to her home by the operator of the car, Hokan L. Enquist of 8 Wolcott street, Natick.

According to a report to Inspector John J. Salenme of the Police Traffic Bureau, Mr. Enquist saw the woman slip on the ice near the curb and skidded as he applied his brakes in an effort to avoid the accident.

Newtonville

"Anything Can Happen," a one-act play written by Roger Mergendahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Mergendahl of 75 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, has been selected as one of four student-written plays to be produced by the Bowdoin College Masque & Gown, February 27. The play was one of many submitted in the annual play-writing contest in the dramatic society. Mergendahl, who took first place in the one-act play-writing contest in 1948, is a member of the Class of 1950. His brother, Charles, also had several one-act and full length plays produced while at Bowdoin, and has had three novels and a number of short stories published since leaving Bowdoin.

Dr. William L. Fleming of 76 Walden street was reelected president of the Massachusetts Society for Social Hygiene at the annual dinner meeting at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, recently.

Held For Having 24 Armory Guns In His Possession

A 36-year-old Prince street, North End, Boston, man was held by Boston police last Friday on suspicion of having possession, for a time at least, 24 guns which were taken from the West Newton State Armory and later recovered in a raid on a Roxbury garage.

In the police lineup, he said he was asked to "hold" the "arsenal" by two friends who worked with him at the Fish Pier. He stuffed them under the back seat of his car, he said, keeping them there for two days until he read about the Armory robbery. Then, he said, he "put two and two together" and summoned his friends to remove the guns.

On their instruction, he said, he dumped them in a Middlesex street, Boston, cellar.

Police sought a warrant against him for illegal possession of revolvers.

Crimes involving young girls, if parents would immediately notify the police, quicker apprehension of the offenders would result and told the members present that the police would withhold the names of the girls involved.

Guests were present from the Allston Kiwanis Club, and other guests included Sgt. William Dowling of the Newton Police Department, and Walter O'Dell, Eugene G. Faucher of the Newton Sign Company was inducted as a member by William Jasset.

The invocation was given by Harold Pillsbury.

Brotherhood Services Held In Colby Hall In Demonstration of Inter-Faith Co-operation Here

The Rev. Dr. Harold W. Tribble, president of the Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Centre, brought greetings Sunday, as Brotherhood services were held in Colby Hall on the campus in connection with the weekly Sunday school meeting of Temple Emanuel of Newton Centre, in the Christian college.

Because of increasing attendance and lack of facilities at the Temple on Ward street, Newton Centre, the Temple officials have accepted the use of Colby Hall at the school for classes each Sunday for more than 225 children of the first to sixth grade.

Dr. Tribble and faculty officials, in a demonstration of inter-faith cooperation, offered the use of the school facilities without charge as soon as it became known last fall. Meanwhile Rabbi Albert I. Gordon of the Temple, and his associate, Rabbi Harold D. Kastle, director of religious education, announced plans for a new building with 20 new classrooms and an auditorium which will adjoin their present structure and which they hope will be ready for occupancy the latter part of this year.

Several automobiles and busses take the children each Sunday from their Jewish temple to the Christian school atop the hill overlooking Newton Centre and from which, on a clear day, the mountains of western Massachusetts and New Hampshire may be seen.

The late Dr. Joshua Liebman of Temple Israel was a member of the school faculty as teacher of Old Testament.

Just Too Much!

Reading the daily newspapers during February a person could gain the impression that the Bergman-Rossellini incident was one of the most romantic and glamorous affairs of all time.

To those reared under stricter standards of ethics, however, this affair would appear to be just another case of double infidelity, regardless of the tawdry trappings that accompanied this sundering of sacred vows.

Evidently, moreover, the producers of the Bergman-Rossellini-directed movie Stromboli saw a striking parallel between their film and the immediate actions of its principal player, and consequently released the picture when the publicity surrounding the birth of a baby boy to this pair was at its height.

Right now the American public is being confronted with large and lurid posters that seemingly portray the story of the actual love drama that was enacted backstage.

We are confident, however, that the sound moral sense of the American public will duly appraise the conduct of the 'glamorous' Bergman and the 'romantic individualist', Rossellini, and that, as a result, this publicity scheme will reap no undeserved dividends.

Know Your City Government

The Sanitation Division

By JOHN F. FOLEY, Superintendent

Another in a series of feature articles presented by The Graphic as a public service to better acquaint the citizens of Newton with their government.

John L. Foley, Superintendent of the Sanitation Division of the Newton Street Department is a life-long resident of this city and joined the city government in May, 1926. He was appointed Highway Foreman in May, 1936 and in June, 1943 he was placed in charge, as Acting Division Foreman of the Sanitation Division. On July 5, 1948, Mr. Foley was appointed permanently as Division Superintendent. In this article Mr. Foley presents a graphic picture of a City service which affects both the health and safety of the citizenry, a service that is administered efficiently and economically, particularly when citizens adhere to the regulations which govern their weekly sanitation service.

Collection of refuse is a service which affects both public health and public safety. An accumulation of waste materials can become either unsanitary or a definite fire menace. The collection of such material, in a City of 84,000 persons located on 300 miles of streets presents a problem in which the cooperation of our citizens can materially affect the costs of the service as well as its efficiency.

Under the supervision of the Division Superintendent assisted by a Foreman-Inspector, 86 men are employed weekly on the work, and consists of 28 truck drivers, 42 collectors, 12 incinerator employees and 4 dump employees. Two trucks are assigned daily to collecting rubbish from business establishments which have two collections weekly. Such establishments however, are entitled to the collection of two barrels, bundles or cartons without charge and for each bundle, carton or barrel in excess of two a charge of 10c each is made. Tickets for these charges are purchased only at the office of the Street Commissioner.

Q. How are collections made in the residential sections of the City?

The residential section of the City is divided into five separate districts, each district receiving one weekly collection of refuse. Each day's work is divided into 13 routes with two trucks and one crew of three collectors. Previous to early 1949, one truck and a crew of collectors covered each route and when a load was obtained, rode either to the City dump or the incinerator. Under this system three to four hours labor on the part of each collector was lost daily. With the placing of an additional truck on the route, the second truck moves in as soon as the first truck is loaded and the collectors work continuously during the day. Each route is covered twice, the first collection being made for the purpose of collecting combustible material which is hauled to the incinerator and on the second trip non-combustibles are collected which are taken to the Pine Street Dump.

Q. How many homes do you service?

The total number of homes is nearing 20,000 and we average more than 40,000 barrels weekly. At present 80 to 85 tons of material is being taken to the incinerator daily and 50 to 60 tons to the Dump. Plus the weight of barrels it is estimated that each collector has to handle and throw on our trucks approximately 8 tons daily.

Because of the greatly increased amount of rubbish being collected due to the increase in new homes, plus efforts to eliminate dump fires and provide for a more sanitary dump, insofar as possible, all combustibles are taken to the incinerator at Newton Highlands. This incinerator has a burning capacity of about 50 tons in an 8-hour period. The increased tonnage being collected made it necessary to employ a second shift of men at the incinerator starting in September.

Considerable headway has been made in improvement of the sanitary conditions at our dump, and today it is sightly, fenced in, properly maintained and serviced periodically for the extermination of rats and vermin. Installation of weighing scales at the Dump, plus those previously installed at the incinerator, enable us to keep reliable cost figures on our various operations.

Q. Are there ways in which the citizens can be of assistance in your work?

Yes, by observing the regulations provided. The principal ones are as follows: Place all barrels and waste at curb line by 7 o'clock A. M. on day of collection. This is important as the City employees start work daily at 7 A. M. A delay in placing out barrels means additional collection service, sometimes leading to expensive overtime work.

Segregate combustibles and non-combustibles. This is most important from a sanitary standpoint and aids in efficient operation of both the incinerator and the Dump.

Tie up loose papers and magazines. Many times City trucks are accused of spilling loose papers on the highways, when the real cause has been from winds blowing rubbish untied or loosely packed at the curb.

Brush. This material must be cut in lengths not over 4 feet long and tied in bundles not over 2 feet in diameter. This is necessary in order that same may be properly handled at the incinerator.

Barrels or containers must not weigh over 125 lbs. This regulation is most important. Every year a number of our men suffer from hernias incurred in connection with heavy lifting. In 1949 several were obliged to undergo surgical operations because of such injuries.

It is also required that barrels must be removed from the highway the day of collection. This is necessary in order to avoid possible injuries to pedestrians, particularly after dark and naturally for the better appearance of the City.

The cooperation of our citizens in obeying these regulations will not only be appreciated but will provide all with more efficient and economical service.

Q. We have noticed the past year that when a holiday occurs during a normal work day that no rubbish collection is made in the district entitled to collection on that day until the following week. What are the reasons for this?

Previously, the day following a holiday we collected rubbish from the district which was not collected on the holiday and also from the district regularly collected on that day, that is from two districts in one day. In order to do this we had to call on all our other Divisions for most of their trucks and a large number of their available men. In many cases urgent work had to be delayed in the Divisions furnishing equipment and personnel and the normal daily cost of operation increased considerably. Also the trucks obtained from other Divisions are not equipped for rubbish collection and cannot handle profitable loads. Because of equipment factors and the large increase in operation costs, this change in operations was made. The same method of delaying holiday collections until the following week is in effect in many other cities and towns.

Q. From which of the city yards are these operations handled?

From the Auburndale Avenue Yard in West Newton which is also adjacent to the Pine Street dumping area.

Q. Does your Division handle any other functions other than the collection of rubbish?

Yes, the Auburndale Avenue Division has to care for all types of maintenance operations in a district of nearly 100 miles of streets, covering West Newton, Auburndale, Newton Lower Falls and that portion of Waban west of Chestnut Street, the Division having a total personnel of 120 men for all operations.

Q. Does your Division also handle snow removal in your district?

Yes, and all rubbish trucks are used for this purpose. The only time there might be a delay in rubbish collection service throughout the City would be when severe winter storms make it necessary to use the rubbish trucks for several days at a time for plowing and snow removal from business sections of the Division.

Red Cross Fund Quota Here Set at $76,140

"Give What You Gave" will be Newton's slogan for the 1950 Red Cross Fund Campaign, declared Douglas B. Francis, Fund Chairman, in announcing the local quota of $76,140 at a meeting of Residential Chairmen last week.

Although expansion of the National Blood Program, with the recent opening of the Massachusetts Blood Center calls for increased expenditures both local and nationally, by careful planning of other chapter budget items, the chapter finds itself able to set a local quota which does not exceed that of last year, without sacrificing any of its many services to the community.

General George C. Marshall, new Red Cross president, also pointed out in announcing the national goal for the campaign, that lower operating budgets will not affect the essential services of the Red Cross. "In fact," he said, "some of them will be increased by wise use of trained volunteers. It is extremely important to millions of Americans that the Red Cross continue its high standard of service."

"The American Red Cross is the instrument chosen by the United States government to aid in fulfilling obligations of the American people under international treaties. To carry out these responsibilities it is essential that the Red Cross raise the necessary fund. The organization must continue its traditional services to the nation, to the armed forces, and to veterans. It must continue to expand its national blood program, already serving nearly a quarter of the country's population. And it must continue to develop its volunteer programs for greater community service. Last year, General Marshall pointed out, the Red Cross spent more than $35,000,000 for its services to the armed forces and veterans alone, half of it in a nationally financed program. With our military forces still at a record peace-time high, and with the veteran population larger than at any previous time in the nation's history, the Red Cross must continue these vital morale and welfare services. "The Red Cross must also be ready to move quickly and efficiently when disaster strikes in any part of the nation," the General said. "Last year the organization assisted in 330 disaster relief operations, the highest number in any one year of Red Cross history. It assisted 228,500 persons with emergency and long-term help at a cost of $7,640,200 during the year."

General Marshall also singled out the organization's health and safety services, its army of trained volunteers, and the Junior Red Cross as important elements that must be continued at peak efficiency.

New Parsonage of First Methodist Church Dedicated

The house which had served as the parsonage for ministers of the First Methodist Church, Newton Upper Falls, for 122 years, was officially replaced Sunday when dedication exercises were held at the new eight-room parsonage at 5 Summer street, Upper Falls.

Bishop Lewis O. Hartman, former Methodist bishop of Boston, presided at the services of dedication assisted by the Rev. Francis D. Taylor, pastor of the church. More than 225 persons attended the services in the church sanctuary and the open house which followed in the church.

The church was founded in 1827, and a year later the parishioners erected the house on High street, which had served as parsonage for all ministers of the church until last year.

Work was begun on the new parsonage last August and the Rev. and Mrs. Taylor moved into the dwelling November 28, the day after Thanksgiving.

The new parsonage is a two-story wooden house, painted white, and occupying the land where two residences had stood. The old parsonage, meanwhile, has been sold and will be used as a private home.

Because the old parsonage had proved to be unsuitable for the uses of the church, the 350 families that comprise the parish decided to erect the new home. Dr. and Mrs. Taylor have been at the church for the past two years.

Diesel-

will mean the scrapping of a similar number of steam locomotives, particularly the famous double-enders which have been hauling commuter trains on the Boston and Albank for two generations.

"We are happy to make this change," Mr. May declares, "particularly as it will mean constant and dependable service at all times in the future. Several times in the past our service all over the system has been interrupted by inability to get adequate supplies of coal. This threat will now be removed."

"The Diesels we are ordering for the Boston & Albany are the so-called road switchers which are capable of hauling much heavier and longer trains than we now use in commuter service, and the locomotives are more flexible and speedier than steam engines for short hauls."

Market-

an attractive tile floor has been laid to make marketing less tiring.

The meat department, which will not be of the usual self-service type, will be the largest in Newton and it will be administered by a large staff of competent clerks so that patrons can be speedily waited on to secure the cuts of meat which they personally select.

The dairy department products will all be in self-service refrigerated cases while the grocery department will have the items systematically arranged on streamlined shelves. All items will be plainly marked and priced. The store's policy will be to serve top grade merchandise at surprisingly low prices. Then, too, streamlined shopping carts will be available for use to make the task of shopping easier.

For those shopping at this big super market, ample free parking space is available in lots adjacent to the store and page boys will stand ready to take the customer's purchases to their parked cars.

Mr. Sklar wants the people of Newton to feel it is their store and will welcome suggestions and criticisms which will aid in simplifying the marketing task.

The store is going to be the home of Elm Farms, for fifty years noted for the best canned foods available.

When the store opens at 9 o'clock next Thursday morning, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood will be present to offer the City's congratulations and good wishes to Mr. Sklar and his able staff, and sidewalk interviews will be made by the announcers of radio station WCRB.

To Give Many Gifts

In addition, there is going to be all kinds of beautiful gifts for the customers. Among these free gifts will be one Console television set; 6 table model radios; 8 sets of dishes; 1,000 Hawaiian baby orchids for the first 1,000 ladies entering the store; 10 coffee makers, and 2,000 loaves of delicious Elm Farm bread.

A pre-view of this beautiful new super-market at Newton Corner foretells the ideal answer to the shopping chore. The very atmosphere of the store itself is conducive to pleasant moments of comfortable shopping and Newton residents will proclaim the Newton Super Market as the finest in the city.

Mr. Frank Wrye of 94 Harvard street passed away Feb. 12. Services were held at the Newton Cemetery Chapel Feb. 13 at 2 p.m.

Teen Agers Busy Snatching Bags

Teen agers were busy snatching handbags last Thursday according to reports to police headquarters.

Mrs. Anna Foristall of 22 Charles street, an employee of Auburn Cleaners, 1449 Washington street, West Newton, reported that a 10-year-old boy entered the shop and grabbed a handbag from under the counter. The bag contained about $7 and personal papers, it was reported.

Police officers searched the Farlow Hill section for two boys, aged 14 to 16, who stole one handbag and failed in an attempt to grab another, about 8 o'clock Thursday evening. A small amount of change and personal papers were contained in the handbag that the boys grabbed from Johanna O'Flynn, 17 St. Mary's street, Brookline, near Franklin and Eldredge streets, Newton. In the other case, the intended victim held onto the straps of her handbag and the boys fled empty-handed.

Search for the culprits proved unsuccessful.

Oak Hill-

January 31, it was unanimously voted that the Association be put on record in favor of House Bills 885 and 886."

Franklin N. Flashner, president of the Oak Hill Park Association, in his recent letter to Mr. Pessolano, stated:

"I am writing in support of these bills on behalf of over eight hundred veterans and their wives, who are residents of Oak Hill Park, the name given to the Newton Veterans Housing project, and who are represented by the Oak Hill Park Association.

We veterans who are residents of Oak Hill Park purchased small homes selling well below $10,000. These homes were built in mass production and make up an integrated well planned community. We are proud of our new community and of our own individual homes. Despite the fact that our homes were built in mass production and sold at such reasonable prices, nevertheless each and every one of our home conforms in every detail to the specification of the building code of the City of Newton. We may feel secure and satisfied that the structural components of our homes are going to hold up, because we know that the standards of the Newton Building Code are very high!

"There is a great deal of undeveloped land around Oak Hill Park. Property values in our community will always be dependent on those about us. We are, therefore, apprehensive of any possibility that homes could be built nearby which would not have to conform to the same high standards of construction as our own homes. We are therefore, opposed to the Law of the Commonwealth by which this possibility could be rendered a reality and are strongly in favor of the amendments to this law embodied in House Bills 885 and 886."

This stand by the Oak Hill veterans is another indication of the widespread and popular support being given by all thinking groups to correct an intolerable situation that has possibilities in undermining the high standards arrived at in local communities after years of experience and effort.

Dr. L. Tillman McDaniel has purchased the house at 76 Hyde avenue, which he is already occupying. Arnold C. Baker was the grantor.

Judge Robert G. Wilson Speaks At Kiwanis Club

At the regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, held at the Simpson House, Newton Centre, Tuesday, Robert G. Wilson, Jr., judge of the Suffolk County Probate Court was the main speaker.

His subject dealt with making of a will properly. He stated men struggled all their life to leave security for their families and either leave no will or one improperly made out so that the parties do not receive all the benefits intended by the deceased. In selecting the three necessary witnesses, he suggested people of a type who could offer intelligent support in the case of a contested will.

The invocation was given by William Sullivan, manager of H. P. Hood plant in Watertown, who also entertained with a solo. Additional entertainment was provided by Fred Moore, who led the group singing and a trio comprised of George White, Ben Louis and Frank Battles.

Among the guests were Hugh S. Boyd, guest of Thomas Donnelly, Lt. Hepperle, U.S.S., who was his brother's guest and John Doyle, guest of Edward Cheverie.

Newton Team Wins in Wild Third Period, 4-2

By ED PISELLI

Usually starting off in high gear and gradually slowing down toward the end of the game, the Newton High hockey squad reversed this procedure last Saturday afternoon against Belmont High, finishing off their last playoff rival 4-2, when they broke a 2-2 second period tie to win in a wild and woolly third frame, that saw two Newton lads get an official's "whammy" for needless fisticuffs. Jay Lane, one of Coach Jack Hall's second stringers, came through with two assists on two goals by Dan Keefe and Doug Evans to spark his club to its second playoff victory of the G.B.I. Hockey League at the Boston Arena, to end the season with their third win, and finish in seventh position.

After registering their two winning tallies early in the third stanza, the Halls became ingrossed in a few isolated personal objectives, Doug Evans squaring off with Belmont's John MacDougall, and getting a major pinned on him. Inspired by his mate's pugilistic performance, Bill Rogers fanned air at Tom Sheehy as he was entering the penalty box and also drew a major.

Newton fell behind in the scoring sequence during the initial period, when Tom Sheehy picked up a loose puck from behind Feely's cage and circled around, zipping the disc past the harried Orange goalie at 5m. 57s. The quickness of the Belmont tally knocked the Halls slightly off balance, and they had difficulty assembling forces for any serious assaults on the opposition's citadel.

Doug Manchester rallied his mates to their first goal, when he converted a pass from Keefe from the right boards, and beat goalie Ed Kerr with a nice slider at 5m. 51s.

Not displaying the same brilliant brand of hockey they used against Stoneham last week, up setting the favorites 5-1, the Halls reverted back to their old form of bad passing or complete lack of it, and a none too solid defense.

Newton jumped to the fore in the second, when in a wild scramble in front of the Belmont cage, Steve Lombardi pushed through a loose puck without any resistance from the goalie, who was involved in a confused mass of arms and legs. Time for that goal was 4:20.

But less than a minute later Belmont put together a successful drive and sent Sheehy in again on another solo, and he lashed a clean shot at just 4:59, it coming while Feely was enticed out of his cage to break up a scramble in front of his net.

Both clubs tried desperately to break the tie during the remainder of the middle frame, but no serious attempts were made. Feely settled down to resist any further Belmont forays and turn in an excellent last game job for Newton High.

The finale was dominated completely by the Halls, both in hockey and belligerence. Cornering the disc in the Belmont zone, Lane passed in to Keefe in the center, and the pivot man zipped one past Kerr at 4m. 34s. Finding the range and formula, obviously crying "Eureka!" Lane flipped again, this time to Doug Evans who batted in a lamp-lighter netward just eleven seconds later, at 4:45.

Our Lady's Shutout in Last Ice Showing, 1-0

An alert and talented goalie proved too much for Our Lady's last Sunday afternoon at the Boston Arena, and a three-game victory string was snapped by their second division last playoff game rival, St. Clement's of Somerville, 1-0, to nose them out of fifth place and into No. 6 spot. The Saint's game winning tally came in the first frame, but the Jim Sullivan-coached side, while seriously making valiant and courageous stabs at goalie Phil Sweeney's cage, failed to find the lamp-lighting combination.

Many times the St. Clement's one-point bulge was challenged, the Sullivan out-playing the opposition for the remainder of the score-famine tilt. Bill Cronin took off on a solo during the initial stanza and almost connected with the equalizer, but sitting through the Saint's defense took all Cronin had and he couldn't quite pull off his coup de grace.

What proved to be the winning goal came when spare wingman Ray Manning pushed the disc past Bill Lawn, after taking a pass from Bibble Shea on the left side of the Our Lady's cage. Time for the clincher was 5:13.

Outside of a middle period near-miss by Luke Fannon and Stanley Oldfield, the Sullivan were frustrated in their attempts, and unable to come up with an effective formula to avert the shutout.

St. Clement's top-notch net custodian, Sweeney, closed the door tight on such stellar performers as Fannon, Tom Dillon, and George Pettee, all three who have contributed to the Purple and Gold's scoring punch in its past triumphs.

The third period was just as fruitless for the Sullivan, as the Saints successfully repulsed any further threats by the locals to knot the issue.

Newton Averages Earlier Defeat by Arlington

By JOE McGAFFIGAN

Newton High's hoopsters averaged an earlier defeat by Arlington High by whipping the Spy Ponders 37-35 last Wednesday at the High School gym. Captain Bud McQueeney, by far the most outstanding player of the game scoring 18 points, put the victory into Coach Smith's lap when he tallied twice from the charity stripe with 30 seconds remaining. Mac was the difference between victory and defeat as he has been so many times this year.

The Tigers jumped into a quick 18-9 lead before Arlington got warmed up. DeRosas (A) scored twice on lay-ups to slice Newton's lead to 18-13. But Peck temporarily halted the attack with a free throw, but Arlington came right back. Bill Shirley tallied twice on a push and a lay-up and Jack Cosgrove tied the game at 19-19 with seconds remaining on a set from the side.

Arlington looked like a new team as the third period got underway. Swanson tallied on a lay-up and Peck tied it up with a flashy hook. Then a Kenealey hook, a Shirley free toss, and a push by Cosgrove gave the visitors a 26-21 lead. Dick Curley equalized Kenealey's hook and McQueeney swished one from the corner and then tapped in a rebound to make it Arlington 26, Newton 25 as the third period ended.

A free toss by Kenealey and a hook by Swanson gave the invaders a four-point advantage. Then Newton looked alive for the first time since midway through the second stanza. Ralph Barisano and McQueeney tied the game with a one-handed push and a set from the corner, respectively. Next, Barisano stole the ball but elected to pass to McQueeney rather than shoot himself. Mac somehow got the ball through the hoop with a flashy left-handed hook and Barisano sank a singleton to lengthen the Tigers' lead to three points (34-31). Then Swanson and Shirley both tallied for the Spy Ponders as the visitors jumped into a 35-34 lead with less than a minute remaining. It was here McQueeney saved the day. After stealing the ball at mid-court, he was fouled as he attempted to shoot. Henry calmly put both shots through the hoop to put the Smiths ahead 36-35. In the closing seconds, Barisano tossed in a singleton to add insult to injury to the visitors.

Our Lady's in Easy Win Over St. Clement's 59-36

By ED PISELLI

Our Lady's basketball aggregation had an easy time of it last Friday night, coasting along to a final 59-36 victory over a willing, but below-par, St. Clement's of Somerville quintet, and thus assured themselves a tie for second place in Catholic League Division 2 standing. St. Mary's of Waltham, with a 12-2 record, has already welded their position mathematically for first place.

The Charlie Gallagher-coached squad went through their routine of piling up a sizable early lead, Mike Bowman and Dick Butler tossing in floor shots in quick succession, and the outcome never once was in doubt. At the end of the first quarter the locals sported a 17-6 edge, with no indication of a let-up in their free-scoring spree. Complete mastery of the boards was only one reason for Our Lady's soft-touch, the others being Butler's deft push-up shots, top man with 17 points, and Bowman with his highly polished drive-in lay-up, next with 14.

St. Clement's recovered in the second frame to strike back with a 12-point barrage while limiting the high flying Purple and Gold to 9 meager markers. Coach Jim Cassell's lads evidently reached their peak during this quarter but were forced to submit to the Gallaghers during the last two frames.

Herman Sampson, a second string senior, gave a good account of himself, hitting for 10 digits, four by way of the charity stripe. Coach Gallagher put his prize twins, Bill Bertrand and Jim Murphy, into the walk-away for a workout, and the up and coming O. L. stars proved again that they will bear watching.

With a 28-18 bulge at the end of the half, the locals kept well ahead of their gallant foe, posting a 36-29 edge in the third quarter, and just marking time until the end of the game. While only held to four points, speedster Barry Waters was the spark of his club, assisting Butler and Bowman at the boards.

Newton Squeezes By Brookline High 35-34

By JOE McGAFFIGAN

Paced by dead-eye Dick Quinlan who tossed in twelve points, the Newton High hoopsters squeezed by Brookline High 35-34 in a thrilling contest requiring an extra stanza last Friday in Brookline's Municipal Gym. The victory ends the Smiths' season and makes them sole possessors of second place in the Suburban League standings with eight wins in twelve starts. Both clubs entered the game with 7-4 records and second place at stake.

The game was just as close as the score indicates. The score was tied five times during the first half, 1-1, 7-7, 9-9, 10-10, 12-12. The Tigers had the lead only once in the first half, 2-1 by virtue of Captain Bud McQueeney's two singletons. However, early in the third period Mac's pair of foul shots gave Newton a 14-13 edge, but Allard's hook and Schultz's push made it 17-14, Brookline. Here Quinlan got hot. His two long sets and McQueeney's tap-in made it 20-17. Charley Smyth's lay-up and free toss, coupled with Schultz's toss from the charity stripe gave Brookline a 21-20 lead. Scotty Price (N) and Bob Allard exchanged field goals and the Red and Gray Warriors still held a one point advantage as the fourth period got under way.

Quinlan swished two more sets, one from the double line, the other from the side to make it 26-23. Schultz (B) sank a charity toss but Dick Curley stretched the Tiger's lead another point with a fancy layup with three minutes remaining. It was here that the Smiths fell apart. Al Schultz tossed in three free throws to slice Newton's lead to 28-27. Quinlan's charity chuck made it 29-27, but Smyth's push with seconds remaining sent the game into overtime.

Ed Yarchin put in a lay-up but Lowell Depper (N) cut Brookline's lead in half with a single.

Newspaper Advertising Best Avers Jordan Marsh Head

BOSTON—Jordan Marsh Co. uses more newspaper advertising than any other store in the world because it has found—after a lot of cold-blooded analysis—that the medium reaches the greatest and most complete cross-section of the public at the lowest cost.

This appraisal of the newspapers as an indispensable medium was voiced here Feb. 7 by Richard H. Edwards, Jr., vice-president of Jordan Marsh, in a talk before the Advertising Club of Boston.

"We know what we must have to succeed," he declared, "I know I am correct when I credit newspaper advertising with a major role in the success of Jordan Marsh Company sales accomplishment."

"It isn't done with mirrors! A lot of cold-blooded analysis of results has gone into the calculation of the advertising appropriation."

Jordan Marsh has led the retail stores in newspaper advertising for at least four years, with the following growth in line, as shown by Media Records: 1946—7,939,002; 1947—9,845,949; 1948—10,985,856; 1949—12,172,279.

There is "no reason whatsoever," Mr. Edwards said, why use of the medium generally should not continue at its present high level.

As for his own store, he added, "I can see no reason for a curtailment of our advertising activities in the newspapers in looking ahead to the spring season of 1950, and if the sales increase, so, too, will the advertising to a degree."

He pointed out that Jordan Marsh's favorable sales results have been produced at a lower advertising cost percentage than those of average stores in the over $50,000,000 volume class. "That," he said, "is the simple answer as to why we make such use of newspaper advertising."

Our sales results are better than competition's by actual record. Costs are as low or lower by actual measure, and the resultant proper balance has been achieved.

As for the effect of television on newspaper advertising, Mr. Edwards said it is a "good and growing" medium, but he enumerated reasons why the newspapers have nothing to fear from it:

Chance to Compete

1. Newspapers present advertisers' messages simultaneously to the same public.

"Two great stores can put similar or the same merchandise on sale at exactly the same time and in the same newspaper to the identical readership. This is healthy. This country has grown on a free, competitive system, and there is nothing freer or more competitive than such an opportunity. Sales success is in the laps of the producers of the advertising and not the vehicle or medium by which it is carried."

2. Newspapers are the only medium reaching the greatest and most complete cross-section of the public.

"For example, magazines direct the solicitation of their readership to classes of readers. . . . Radio and television solicit by their programming the participation of the audience along the lines of amusements or news and leaves such selection to the choice of the audience itself, but the newspaper presents all these features to all classes of people simultaneously."

3. Newspapers offer the greatest possible circulation at the lowest percentage of cost. Here, Mr. Edwards cited his store's sales and advertising experience, as noted above.

4. The newspapers are a superior medium for timing.

"Merchandise which arrives in our store this afternoon can be, by the dint of hard work and cooperation on the part of the newspapers, presented to the public within 24 hours. . . . This is not an exclusive virtue of newspaper advertising, . . . but we do know the newspaper will be printed tomorrow. We do know its circulation, and it would be necessary for us to see if we could find or buy radio time on the spur of the moment."

Any Time, Any Place

5. The newspaper is the one great medium that awaits the reader's convenience.

"A newspaper advertisement lives for many hours . . . and sometimes for days. It is not received in a fleeting moment, it does not have to register within a brief period of time or be lost forever. It enters the home and is available to every member of the family at a time of his own choosing."

"Taking these points into consideration," he concluded, "and remembering that the newspaper possesses the unique distinction of distribution by being wanted by the reader sought out and paid for . . . therefore, what has the newspaper to fear?"

Newspapers will remain secure in their position as an advertising medium, said Mr. Edwards, so long as they continue to serve the public well—"a better pro-

Edison Reports $2.91 A Share

Boston Edison Company earned $2.91 a share in 1949, as compared with $2.90 in 1948, President James V. Toner announces.

For the first time in many years gross revenues declined in comparison with the preceding year. In 1949 they were $64,133,148, and in 1948 they were $65,693,355. The decrease resulted from smaller sales to other utilities. There was an even larger decrease, however, in operating expenses. The largest reduction was in the cost of fuel, due to improved efficiency, smaller output and the savings from the use of oil instead of coal. From 1940 through 1948 fuel oil was practically unavailable, and the Company had to rely almost exclusively on coal as fuel. In 1949, however, 67 percent of the kilowatt hours were generated by use of oil at a price considerably less than coal. Customers of the Company shared in these savings to the amount of $1,030,000 as a result of lower fuel charges.

As a result of a wage award by the Massachusetts Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, increasing base rates of pay by 3 percent, the Company's expenditures for pay rolls and employee benefits were increased approximately $350,000.

During 1949 the Company declared dividends of $2.80 a share.

George Washington lived again briefly Wednesday at the monthly Jamboree of Newton Y.M.C.A. Boys' Division members, according to Everett L. Keyes, Assistant Boys' Work Secretary. Over one hundred and fifty boys attended a program celebrating Washington's birthday with a skit presented by the Blackhawks, a group led by Robert Rich. The Jamboree was rounded out with a full hour of cartoon movies.

from the All Newton Music School, who will augment the Orchestra along with some of the advanced pupils of the Music School.

The Newton Symphony Orchestra was organized in the fall of 1948 as a part of the Adult Education program of the Newton Public Schools, and is sponsored by the Recreation Department of the City of Newton. At its first public performance on the evening of the Evening School Exhibition, the Newton Symphony Orchestra presented the First Movement of Beethoven's Eighth Symphony. The object from the start has been to provide an opportunity for people, who play professionally and non-professionally, to gain experience in playing and studying fine music in a group.

The director of the Newton Symphony Orchestra is Donald S. March, Supervisor of Instrumental Music in the Newton Public Schools. Born in Providence, Rhode Island, and graduated from Aldrich High School in 1937, his talent in musicianship was demonstrated by his gaining recognition as a violinist early in high school and winning contests in violin given by the Rhode Island Federation of Music Clubs.

Mr. March began study at the New England Conservatory in 1938, where he majored in violin with Vaughan Hamilton, and Music Education with Francis Findlay. As a senior he was invited to "guest conduct" the Detroit Symphony Orchestra as a part of a conducting contest among the students of conservatories in America. While at the Conservatory, he was a director of Glee Clubs in Boston hospitals.

He graduated with honors from the N. E. Conservatory in 1944, and is a member of honorary music fraternities. Before receiving his appointment to his present position in 1947, Mr. March held positions in the music departments in the schools of New Hampshire and in the summer of 1947 he received a scholarship to the Berkshire Music Center, Tanglewood.

Miss Irene Forte, who is working with Mr. March in arranging the Pop Concert, studied privately with Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, and became the first pupil of the West Newton Music School, which was a fore-runner of the All Newton Music School. After graduating from the All Newton Music School, Miss Forte became a pupil of Mr. Felix Winternitz. This study was followed with four years, under scholarship, with Charles Martin Loeffler. She later studied Solfege at the Longy School in Cambridge, and attended the Surette Summer School in Concord. At present Miss Forte is a faculty member in the Violin Department of the All Newton Music School.

Mary L. Scipione (Mrs. Arthur) who will direct Mozart's Concerto for Flute and Orchestra, is also a faculty member of the All Newton Music School. Her early years of study were spent as a pupil of Miss Elizabeth Fyffe at the All Newton Music School, followed by study with Mr. Felix Winternitz of Boston. Mrs. Scipione studied further with Mr. Antonio Gardi, who is a first violinist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. She graduated from the Solfege Department at the Longy School in Cambridge and attended the Surette Summer School in Concord.

Benjamin Muchenhaupt, a Senior at the Newton High School, is studying the Flute at the All Newton Music School with Mrs. Francis Snow Drinker. He will be the soloist for Mozart's Concerto for Flute and Orchestra. Benjamin has been a student at the All Newton Music School for eight years, the last four of which he has studied with Mrs. Drinker. In addition to playing with the Senior Orchestra at the All Newton Music School, he is also a member of the High School Band and the High School Orchestra.

Funeral services will be held in Santa Barbara.

Problem—

found at the root of family trouble.

Mrs. Holden, of Newton Family Service, which is one of the 225 agencies throughout the country affiliated with the Family Service Association of America, said:

"All children grow up to be adults physically but none of us are completely grown up emotionally. Few of us are completely mature. Particularly under strain and stress, people tend to revert to childish ways. Often their resort to feelings and attitudes of childhood takes place unconsciously. But in today's world, with its complex social, political and economic problems, the need for mature citizens is vital.

"This magazine article cites numerous examples of 'emotional immaturity' as a factor in personal and family problems and hopefully concludes it is not an insoluble matter. It should be 'must reading' for each one of us. There are also several excellent books recently published on this subject which make interesting and rewarding reading—such as 'The Mature Mind' by H. A. Overstreet, 'Emotional Maturity' by Leon Saul, or 'Unhappy Marriage and Divorce' by Edmond Bergler.

"The following are some excerpts from 'Little Boys Make Lousy Husbands': 'While for those of us in whom the problem is very serious, psychiatric aid may be the only complete solution, for many others with less severe difficulties, family service agencies can do a remarkable job,' according to the author.

"Their trained counseling can help the individual to dig more deeply and realistically into his situation and the attitudes he holds toward it. It can aid him to understand his own relationship to it, to see it with truer perception rather than with defensiveness. And with this new and more accurate perception, he can develop more mature and positive ways of handling it."

The Family Service Bureau of Newton has been serving this community for 61 years. Its purpose is to strengthen family life and help troubled individuals to lead a happier, more satisfying and useful life. Its workers are trained, experienced, and warmly sympathetic. The Bureau is located at 74 Walnut Park, Newton.

Similar preliminary meetings were held in Atlanta, Georgia for committee members from the Southeastern Area, in Chicago, Illinois for the Midwestern Area, and in San Francisco, California, for the Pacific Area, prior to the final joint meeting at National headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Pack 23 Holds Hobby Exhibit

Pack 23 Cub Scouts, held a hobby exhibition at its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, February 16th at the Hamilton School, Newton Lower Falls. After a lengthy discussion, a committee of visiting den mothers from Auburndale declared a three-way tie between the three dens. Among the many objects on display were model planes, plastic dishes and earring holders, bird feeding stations, stamp collections and leather goods all collected or fashioned by the boys.

At this meeting every boy in the pack received at least one award. Altogether the three den mothers, Mrs. William Howard and Mrs. David Robinson, both of Ithaca Circle, and Mrs. Benjamin Louis of St. Mary's Street, distributed a total of twenty-nine badges and arrows to the fourteen boys present. The one absent cub, Jack Callahan, quarantined to his home because of measles in his family, also received a silver arrow.

The cubs participating in this record breaking performance were Andy Robert, Charles Montevani, Bobby Brewer, David Robinson, Donald Scott, David Louis, Carl Smith, Kenneth Downing, James Burdick, Billy Howard, Frank Best, Emil Troup, Dickie Brewer.

Two cars were wrecked and a man hurt in a collision which occurred at Commonwealth avenue and Commonwealth park, at the Centre, early last Saturday morning.

Suffering injuries to his head and left leg, Anthony M. Reagan, 27 Langley road, Brighton, was taken to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

According to the report made to the Police Traffic Bureau, the car operated by Reagan was in collision with an auto driven by Richard B. O'Meara of 225 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, who escaped injury.

Both cars had to be towed away.

nearest bus route. He contended that many new homes have been built in the area and that the proposed bus line would serve persons going to church and school.

Eugene J. Conroy of 87 Derby street, West Newton, representing property owners along the proposed route and school officials, said the bus line was essential to the Franklin School, the largest elementary school in Newton.

Waltham Councillor Joseph D. McCarthy asserted that the proposed change in the bus line would be an injustice to his constituents, who would lose time as a result of the roundabout route, which would make the line a "Toonerville Trolley."

Francis B. Turner, attorney for the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway, said the company was not opposed to the route but that Waltham residents oppose the removal of service from High street.

Residents of Parmenter road opposed the petition, asserting that the road is too narrow for buses and that the safety of children would be endangered.

Shame and Glory of The Church Theme Of the Bishop's Talk

Speaking on the theme, "The Shame and Glory of the Church," Bishop John Wesley Lord of the Boston area of the Methodist Church electrified over 200 delegates to the mid-winter dinner of the Newton Council of Churches meeting held at Central Church, Newtonville, last Thursday night. The meeting was presided over by Jess D. Traylor, president, and was opened with prayer by the Rev. Joseph McDonald, president of the Newton Minister's Association.

Bishop Lord said in part: "In a broken and divided world, it is important that the Christian Fellowship be maintained unbroken and undivided. It is a contradiction in terms to speak of a 'broken Fellowship.' It is the task of the theologian and the churchman to create the Una Sancta, that which truly unites all Christendom. This is more a matter of the heart than of the mind. We must see to it that tolerance is not enough, indeed, it may be sinful. We need an attitude of mind deeper than tolerance. We need the spiritual ability openly to criticize what seems so precious; to believe and at the same time to be able to criticize belief without feeling that there is any spiritual treachery in such criticism. It will be necessary for churchmen to rise above toleration to find a new level of integration.

"Toleration in the sense that we put up with our own little ways and hold to our own old habits of belief and thought of worship and practice is often the cause of spiritual sickness and does not lead us to real faith in the Absolute. We must be willing to adjust present patterns to the nature of truth as it has been revealed to us and as it is now revealed to us. The real inner sickness of the West is a division in the life of the spirit, a division that toleration as a virtue cannot heal. It is this division that is confusing millions of men today and forcing them to find security and hope in various forms of secular totalitarianism. This is the shame of the church.

"But the glory of the Church surpasses its shame. It reveals today as never before a new capacity for struggle, a capacity for self examination and restraint, a capacity of community of life and effort. Much is made of the 236 divisive segments of Protestantism, yet 82 percent of all the Protestants are included in 13 major cooperating denominations. 201 sects contain but 2 percent of all the Protestant population in the nation. We work today in local, federal, and worldwide councils toward our common ends. We need never sell our church short! We thank God for the variety of gifts in the household of faith. The church is united on its doctrine of man and his need of Redemption. Our faith not only offers a truer insight into the human predicament of modern man; it offers also a realizable redemption to those who live in this predicament. This is the glory of the church. The final word of religion is not 'Who shall deliver me from the body of this death,' but it is the assurance of reconciliation to God through Christ despite the limitations of human experience."

The speaker concluded, "We

Dedication Exercises Sunday To Honor Dr. Fannie M. McGee

A dedication ceremony will be held in the Waban branch library next Sunday afternoon in honor of Dr. Fannie M. McGee, the first librarian of the Waban branch.

A memorial tablet will be unveiled in her memory and a reference room will be named in her honor. A collection of books given by friends in honor of Dr. McGee, also will be presented.

Dr. McGee was the first branch librarian at Waban, beginning her work January 1, 1912, and serving in this capacity until 1939. Many Waban residents remember with high appreciation her helpful service to them and to their children. For 37 years, Dr. McGee was a most helpful member of the Newton Free Library staff.

Judge Thomas Weston, president of the board of trustees of the Newton Free Library, and Rev. Stanley W. Ellis will be the speakers at the dedication exercises. The Waban Woman's Club, Waban Junior Woman's Club, Angier Parent-Teacher Association, Waban Improvement Society, Waban Neighborhood Club, Newton Library staff, and friends of Dr. McGee have co-operated to give the book collection in her honor.

In conjunction with the dedication exercises, there will be a special art and book exhibit of choice material owned by the library. Following the dedication, which will be started at 3 o'clock, an open house and social hour will be held during which a special committee of the Waban Woman's Club, headed by Mrs. Alan M. MacIntire, will serve tea. The committee of arrangements will be Mrs. Alice S. McMullin and Miss Ruth A. Hazell, former Waban branch librarians, and Miss Mildred Libby, present Waban librarian.

Volunteers in Newton Red Cross Gave 57,202 Hours Last Year

One way in which Red Cross is able to provide its services at a minimum cost is the extensive use of volunteers, who last year gave 57,202 hours of service in Newton, the equivalent of 23 persons working a 40-hour week. It would have taken many more than 23 paid persons, however, to fill the assignments that were carried out simultaneously.

While a Motor Service driver transports a group of patients to several Boston clinics, stopping to pick up an emergency supply of blood for Newton Hospital on the way home, Gray Ladies, Arts and Skills workers, and Nurse's Aides are busy ministering to the sick in hospitals. Staff Aides are answering the telephone and typing at the Chapter House, a Social Welfare Aide may be counseling with a veteran, a Community Gray Lady may be visiting with a shut-in, while a Lasell College student is giving craft lessons to a homebound child, and Production workers sew on layettes and knit in their homes.

In the evenings too, Red Cross volunteers carry on their diversified activities. While a First Aid class is being conducted in the barn in back of the Chapter House, by a volunteer instructor, a member of the Home Nursing Committee is setting out the articles used in a class on Mother and Baby Care. A Motor Service driver backs out the station wagon, loads in the birthday cakes regularly delivered to Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital (which have been baked by Newton volunteers) picks up the Canteen workers who will serve at a dance at Cushing that evening and starts her evening assignment. Once at the hospital she finds another group of Newton volunteers, who are serving as hostesses for the dance.

The women of the Newtonville Methodist Church are sewing today with Mrs. Wilbur J. A. Witly in charge. Group Five members are special guests. There will be a box luncheon with hot coffee served by Mrs. Hamilton M. Gifford.

Beavers Couldn't Make Chips Fly Any Faster

Busy beavers couldn't make the wood chips fly any faster than the youngsters produce them in the woodworking groups at the West Newton Community Centre, Inc., in the old Portable back of the Davis School. Busy saws, planes, files, and hammers create a din over which only the soprano voices of the children are understandable, but out of this come toys, games and useful household articles, often of curious and imaginative design.

"We now have eight woodworking groups," Mrs. William H. Cady, Executive Director of the Community Centre says, "and there are six or seven children in each group. They meet Tuesday and Thursday afternoons when school is out, and Saturday mornings. And our boys seldom miss woodworking unless they are sick. I should say 'boys and girls' now, because we have just started one class for girls and they are as enthusiastic about this manual work as the boys are."

Directs Activities
Mrs. Cady, who has directed the activities of the Centre for twenty-three years has good reason to take a real personal interest in every activity of these youngsters for in many instances the mothers and even grandmothers of the present children have been members of the Community Centre.

The first impression is that the woodworkers are rather young to be managing full-size saws almost as large as themselves. There are no undersized, or what the instructors call "discouraging toy tools" in the shop. Young Peter, whose father teaches electricity in the Newton High School, can hardly get his knee up on the low sawing table, but somehow he manages to saw the edges of his birdhouse roof almost as straight and square as most adults could. "Skipper" is eight and he's doing an extremely careful laying out and squaring the ends of pieces of a three foot tool tray. Others are working seriously at toy boats and airplanes, a checker board, and a stool.

Strangely enough, the standard variety of plywood pattern article commonly seen in such shops for children isn't to be seen around here. Mrs. Cady suggests we ask Mr. Bose, the instructor about this, but it's rather difficult to get his attention for long. Visitors are always welcome at the Centre but the staff people believe that the children should have a priority on attention here.

Pattern Work Stereotyped
"I'm just not interested in pattern work," the instructor explains in a free moment, "it's stereotyped, limits the imagination, and doesn't allow for varied use of tools and materials. Furthermore, the fir plywood usually used in pattern work is pesky stuff to handle. It splinters too easily." He waves us off as he moves across the shop toward a young carpenter. "It'll work better if you get behind the file, not beside it. Put your working hand here, and steer the file with the other hand. You see, this hand pushes the file forward while this one guides it and pushes it down on the wood. Yes, that's the idea."

Looking around the shop you get a good idea of the diversity of things being made. Boats are the most popular toys but there are also trucks, trains, sea and jet planes. One youngster is starting a model castle with watch towers from which the imaginary occupants will be able to spy and fight off the Indians, explains the worker. The children make what they wish to make and many of them chose articles for their homes such as kitchen knife racks, tool trays, shoe-shine boxes, and key boards for all the keys around the house to be kept in a central place.

Materials Not A Problem
Materials are not a problem as discarded wood and boxes supplement the new wood furnished by the Centre. The fifteen cents a month paid by each worker wouldn't begin to buy the wood used but there is a more important reason for training the children to "salvage" wood. Youngsters get discouraged if they have to buy wood yet almost everywhere one looks there are pieces that can be used if only trimmed down and finished off. Mr. Bose claims. He encourages finding materials and then deciding what to make. That takes more ingenuity.

Saturday mornings at 10:30, the girls' class meets and the spirit is just like that in the other groups as well as the same variety of articles, the same tools and paint brushes.

Likes the Work
Asked how he likes this work, the instructor replied: "I love it, any kind of hand work. They're such good kids to work with, but I guess all kids are. I wish I could start two more groups but there just isn't time."

Konrad Bose is Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Displaced Persons Commission and formerly the director of CARE operations in New England but wants to teach eventually. He adds, "Mrs. Cady, my boss, is swell and a keenly understanding person with a genuine love for this sort of community project. That means everything. The Board of Directors has given me every advantage possible here and I think West Newton has a fine tradition of enlightened community spirit which makes this sort of thing possible."
